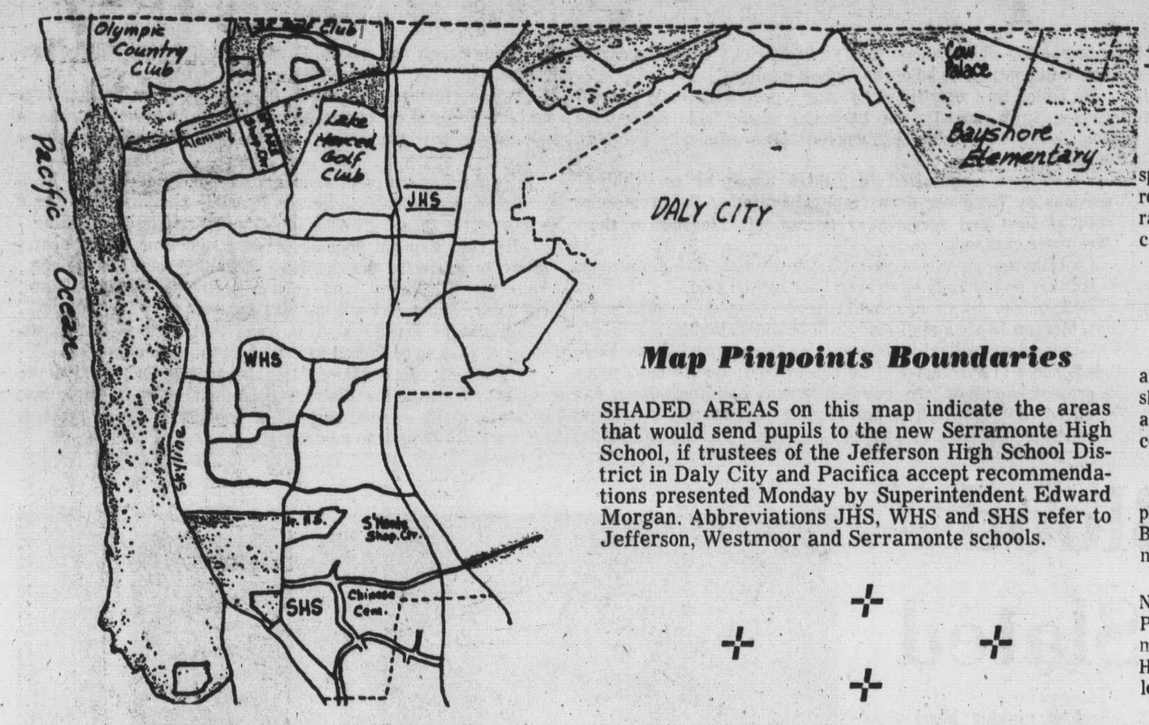
Morgan Submits Boundary Proposals for Jeff High



Map Pinpoints Boundaries

SHADED AREAS on this map indicate the areas that would send pupils to the new Serramonte High School, if trustees of the Jefferson High School District in Daly City and Pacifica accept recommendations presented Monday by Superintendent Edward Morgan. Abbreviations JHS, WHS and SHS refer to Jefferson, Westmoor and Serramonte schools.

He Also Calls for Education Program

By WILL E. THOMAS

Superintendent Edward Morgan Monday night in Daly City spread before Jefferson Union High School District trustees staff recommendations for attendance boundary lines, with improved racial balance, plus an ambitious teacher-pushed "creative educational program."

Fewer than 50 interested citizens and concerned educators heard Morgan recite in clear, crisp tones a 23-page list of recommendations, backgrounding and supporting statistical data that took 45 uninterupted minutes to complete.

Morgan, who asked trustees to ballot on the proposals February 13, spelled out administrative recommendations that would shift students from both Westmoor and Jefferson High School attendance areas to the new Serramonte High School, set for completion in 1969.

Among the recommendations:

SERRAMONTE ATTENDANCE AREA — From Jefferson's present area: San Jose Avenue-Wellington Avenue east to the Brisbane Elementary District Boundary; all of the Bayshore Elementary District; All of Collins Avenue in Colma.

From Westmoor's present attendance area: Westlake Unit No. 1, Westlake Estates, Olympic Section, North Mayfair-Park Plaza-Fairway Drive region and all area of the Jefferson Elementary District lying west of Skyline Boulevard and-or State Highway 1; the area bounded between Belhaven-St. Francis Boulevard-Higate Drive. (See map at left.)

—The district retain all of its regular high schools as four-year facilities.

—Serramonte High School open in September of 1968 with freshman and sophomore classes only, and that Serramonte for the 1968-69 term be located on the Westmoor campus.

Morgan suggested further that when moving to its own campus in September 1969, an additional grade be added to Serramonte and that in September 1970 the seniors be added.

—He declined to submit a proposal on "ethnic policy." The matter, he declared, "needs additional study," and trustees should refer the item to the faculty committee and-or to the negotiating council.

—Concurred with the faculty committee's position that a "boundary change can provide integration only if it is coupled with a truly creative and flexible educational program."

Along these lines, he recommended "every effort" be made to recruit, or train present personnel, as reading specialists; that another staff psychologist be hired; and the scope of the district's in-service program be broadened.

Where and when appropriate, additional teachers should be hired, he cited, to release interested and qualified personnel to develop new techniques and-or programs.

A voluntary exchange of both teachers and pupils to schools other than their "home" plants should be encouraged.

'Such a program," he added, "should be exciting for the staff, the students and the parents involved, and is an excellent

Mass Transit

White Elephant Or Salvation?

By FRANK LaPIERRE

THREE YEARS ago San Mateo County taxpayers paid $1,236,514.33 into a special automobile tax fund to finance study of transit problems affecting the Peninsula.

There is a growing concern among some of these taxpayers about the wisdom of financing this venture and they are beginning to ask what they have actually bought for their money.

The fact is, aside from a few relatively new ideas they have bought very little.

John Lilly, general manager of the West Bay Area Rapid Transit District, has openly disputed critics of the study, claiming without it an efficient master transit system for San Mateo County cannot be developed to serve the people for the next two decades.

The district (WBRTA) was formed in 1964 after San Mateo County withdrew from the multi-county Bay Area Rapid Transit District (BARTD). It was charged by the legislature with co-ordinating transportation facts and figures, along with finding ways and means of financing such systems, with both surrounding counties and present transportation companies within the county.

Thus far WBRTA has "leaked out" what is already known, and has been known, for several years. That is: the Southern Pacific Railroad Company's commuter service is plodding along and barely keeping pace with the growing demand for such service along the Peninsula corridor; busing systems in the county are inadequate, and, the cost of installing affixed rail type system other than along the S.P. right-of-way is financially out of the question at present.

There are three organizations aiding WBRTA in its study of transportation ills plaguing the growing Peninsula area — DeLeaw, Cather & Company, Stanford Research Institute, and George Nolte Consulting Engineers.

Ceiling costs for services of these experts has been set at $586,000. The three agencies must present a report to WBRTA's eight-member Board of Directors this spring containing four possible transportation plans, along with supporting statistics on how to make each system function properly.

Another group which has aided in this study is the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission (BATS) which distributed some 40,000 questionnaires to county residents

AFT Reacts To Morgan Proposals

Dion Dubois of the American Federation of Teachers, Local 1481, charged Jefferson High Supt. Edward Morgan with "complete evasion" of racial policies in the superintendent's list of recommendations on boundary change and ethnic balance.

Dubois, talking with newsman following the presentation at Westmoor High's little theater, also was critical of Morgan's proposal to spread creative educational services to schools throughout the district.

He thought such services at first should be limited to Jefferson High, "where it is needed most."

In relation to the Morgan recommendation that further study of a district racial policy be made, DuBois said his group "would not be satisfied" until such a policy is put down in writing.

Jim McKennie of the Jefferson Union High School Teachers Association declined to "condemn" any of the proposals until he had studied them further.

Students Observe Council at Work

Fifteen selected students from Daly City's two high schools sat alongside the City Council and staff during a regular session of the council on Monday to get a first-hand look at the workings of local government.

The students were participants in the annual "Youth in Government Week" which places outstanding students from Jefferson and Westmoor high schools in key city government positions for a week.

On January 29 the students will actually take over the reins of city government during a special council meeting at the Civic Center. The public is invited to attend.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett, welcomed the students and introduced them to the audience at last night's meeting. His counterpart, Jefferson student Leon Colvin, was elected last week by his fellow student-councilmen to serve in that position for the entire week.

At Monday night's meeting, the council was informed by city clerk Anna Ohlendorf that voting places in Daly City would remain open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. on April 9 for the General municipal election. Four offices are up for election — two city council seats (four year terms) city treasurer (four year term) and city clerk (four year term).

Mrs. Ohlendorf explained the procedure for obtaining necessary forms for the positions and said nomination papers could be obtained on or after 25 January.

Daly City To Join Fight On Bus Fare Hike

Daly City city council Monday endorsed the position of the San Mateo County Council of Mayors in opposing the application of Western Greyhound Lines for a fare increase on the Peninsula and elimination of commutation fares.

The council also.

Unanimously approved the rezoning from C-1 (Commercial) I-D (Industrial) and Unclassified to "M" (Ind. District) certain property in the vicinity of the Southern Pacific Railroad and extending from Westlake Avenue to approximately 450 feet south of Citrus Avenue.

Read an ordinance (No. 672) which establishes a new salary for the City Clerk — from $599 to $672.

Accepted the annual audit report for the City. The report noted surpluses remained the same as last year, including costs of money moving into the new Civic Center building.

Received the annual Librarian's Report which pointed out that some 365,561 books were borrowed during 1967 and 5,774 new books were added. The library now purchases 18 newspapers from throughout the country along with 162 assorted magazines, the council was told.

Police Dog's First 'Arrest'

Officer Stan Bennett and his "sidekick" Gildo apprehended a robbery suspect in South San Francisco this morning within minutes after the crime was reported.

The all-points bulletin, describing a robbery suspect who had held up the Jax Shell Station at 123 Linden Avenue, was broadcast to patrol units in the city shortly after 1:12 a.m., and Bennett and his partner raced towards the scene.

As they approached the Commercial-Linden Avenue intersection, the robbery suspect was spotted running down the street and the pair left the patrol car and chased him on foot.

Bennett and Gildo nabbed the suspect, later identified as Art Ortiz, 29, an unemployed bellhop of no known address, and booked him into city jail on suspicion of armed robbery.

The suspect offered little resistance when Guildo confronted him, police said.

Gildo is the pride of the South San Francisco police department—all 80-plus pounds of fur and teeth.

The first K-9 to be assigned to the department, he has more than "earned his keep," one officer commented.

This morning was Gildo's first opportunity to participate in an arrest with his master, officer Bennett, since the German shepherd was assigned to the department last September.

Primarily, the pair is assigned to patrol the industrial complex in the city; however, they also respond to other calls immediately "outside" their areas, a spokesman said.

Attendant Walter W. Henkel, 57, told police the suspect walked into the station and said he needed some water. As the attendent turned his back, the man allegedly pulled a knife and demanded: "Give me all the money."

The suspect then fled on foot with some $100 from the register.

Boat Show Ends, Sets New Record

San Francisco's 1968 National Sports and Boat Show shattered attendance records during its 10-day run at the Cow Palace ending Sunday night in Daly City.

"Exhibitors reported sales were strong and sales promotion the best ever experienced in our show," said Thomas R. Rooney, managing director.

"The public showed keen interest in the new boating trends, which included wider hulls for greater comfort, compact diesel motors for boats as short as 25 feet and many large boat companies swinging from wood construction to fiberglass."

Bid Accepted

Trustees of the Jefferson High School accepted the low bid Monday night of the Wilmar Construction Company of Daly City for construction of the Terra Nova High School music building in Pacifica.

The bid was $164,440. The budget estimate was $177,473.

Bruno Hikes Water Rates

San Bruno councilmen Monday authorized preparation of a resolution establishing new water service rates based upon a "compromise" rate schedule proposed by City Manager Gerard S. Vergeer.

The new schedule will call for a minimum monthly charge of $2 for the first 500 cubic feet of water used in all sedtions of the city.

However, the schedule will include a differentiation between rates in the city's "lower" and "upper" areas, a point which has caused considerable discussion.

Councilman Donald Risso voted against preparing the resolution on Monday because of the differentiation factor.

Under the new schedule, residents in the areas east of Junipero Serra Boulevard will pay 20 cents per cubic foot of water used from 500 to 2,000 cubic feet, and 17 cents for all over 2,000 cubic feet.

In areas west of Junipero Serra, the rates will be 35 cents per cubic foot for volume between 500 and 2,000 cubic feet, and 22 cents per cubic foot for all over 2,000 cubic feet.

The difference results from the fact that water for residents in the eastern areas of the city is taken from a city-owned well, and houses in the western areas are served through purchasing water from the San Francisco

Didn't Want Ticket, But He Got One

A San Francisco man who "had too many traffic tickets and didn't want another" provided police from two cities with a merry chase Tuesday morning.

The wild flight started at the corner of Templeton and Mission Streets in Daly City as officer Russell Cunningham spotted Leo L. Butler, 19, allegedly speeding through a red light.

The officer said his patrol car hit speeds "topping 85 miles per hour" before he successfully pulled in front of Butler's car and forced it off the road at Silver Avenue and Mission Streets shortly after 4 a.m.

Officer Cunningham cited him for speeding and reckless driving.

—Coordination between the community and the school should be stepped up, with inclusion of business and industry.

"Parents could and should be involved in curricular planning, co-curricular supervision and in serving as classroom assistants," Morgan pointed out.

The district's work experience program, in which certain students go out into the community to work as part of their total education, should be expanded from the present nine-month plan into a 12-months' program.

—Individual school-centered programs that emphasize the particular strengths of each should be encouraged.

—All district schools should be "considered" as laboratory schools.

"During this month," said Morgan, "the staff of the San Mateo County PACE Office has been meeting with the staffs of each of the schools in our district, with the aim of assisting this district in writing and submitting a project of considerable magnitude which, if approved, will go a long way toward implementing this recommendation."

—Morgan said a recruiting team this year will go out of state in an attempt to obtain "highly qualified minority teachers."

Morgan explained that board adoption "will materially reduce" the Jefferson and Westmoor enrollments and will insure Serramonte of an enrollment of sufficient size to permit this school to offer a well-balanced educational program.

He noted that Jefferson's present 1,784 enrollment would be decreased to 1,235; Westmoor's to 1,688 from 2,374 when Serramonte opens with 1,235 pupils.

Straight-line projections placed in September 1970, when Serramonte would become a four-year school, these enrollment figures:

Jefferson, 1,346; Westmoor, 1,840; Serramonte, 1,346.

Morgan envisioned that most of the recommendations would insure parents and students that "this district's educational programs will continue to be of the highest quality."

He added that adoption of the staff's proposals would prevent Jefferson High School from becoming a de facto segregated school, and "will assure Serramonte of an ethnically balanced student body."

—Morgan emphasized that there would be no double-sessions at Westmoor as a result of initiating the proposed shift of first and second-year Serramonte students to the Westmoor campus.

Coordinated programs would be instituted, and discussions toward that end already have been launched he said.

—When the board has made its decision on recommendations, Morgan hopes a staff study will be authorized to:

—Decide when final increments for Oceana and Terra Nova High Schools in Pacifica will be constructed; decide how, when the present boundary lines between Oceana and Terra Nova can be moved; decide which of our regular high schools will house the educationally-handicapped and mentally retarded programs; and decide when and where Pengate High School will be constructed.

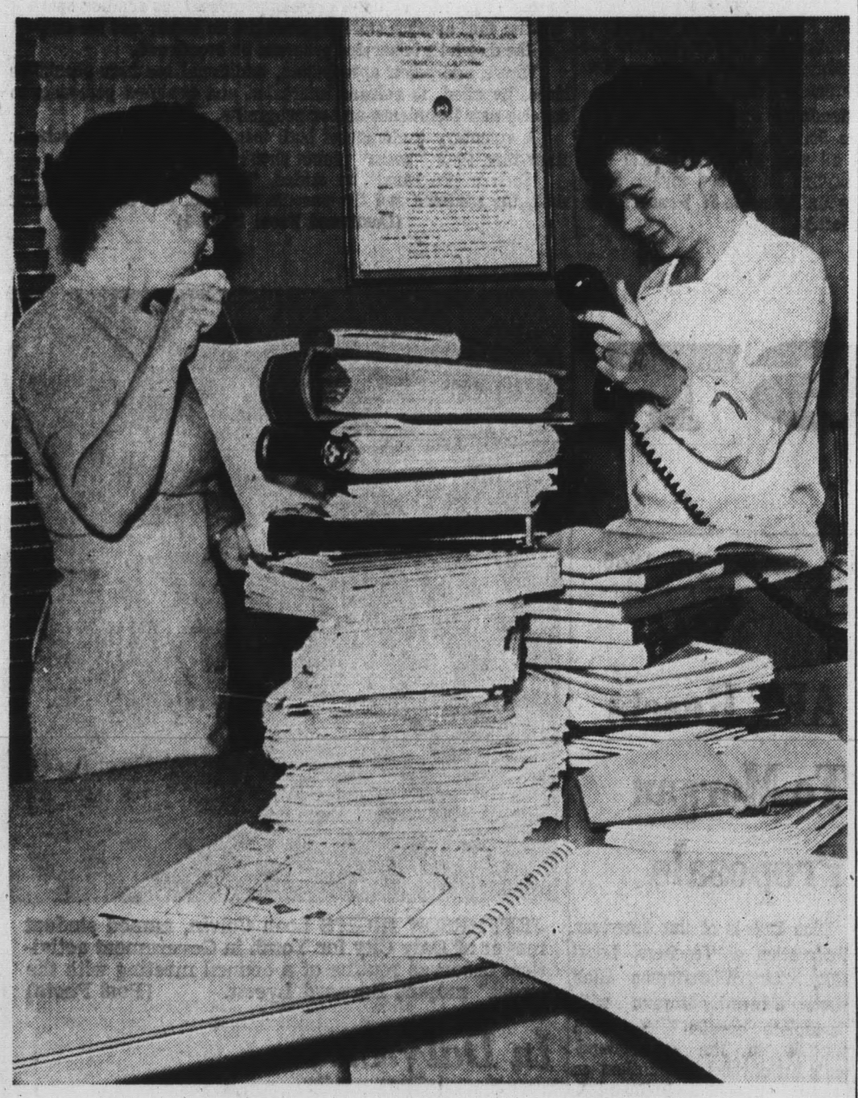
Morgan further suggested trustees of his district urge board members of the contributing elementary school districts to "seriously study the ethnic composition of their respective schools."

In explaining the recommendations concerning the two Pacifica high schools in the Jefferson District, Morgan noted Terra Nova to be the fastest growing school in the district at this time.

He said it might become prudent sometime in the near future to move the Oceana High boundary south, to include Vallemar, Rockaway, and certain segments of Linda Mar and Pedro Point, as Park Pacifica develops near Terra Nova.

It might be feasible also, he said, that some Fairmont students will have to be shifted in the future to Serramonte.

In fact, Morgan envisions that because of increased development throughout the district—Serramonte, the Pengate and Pacifica regions — re-alignment of boundaries every three or four years might become necessary.



JEFFERSON HIGH SCHOOL District Supt. Edward Morgan (center) is buried at his well-stacked desk in Daly City, completely engulfed in toilsome work, on the high-priority list of staff recommendations he delivered to trustees Monday night on the district's controversial, time-consuming attempts to achieve racial balance while realigning attendance boundaries for the Westmoor and Jefferson High Schools and establishing lines for the new Serramonte campus. Towering stacks of correspondence and other related material, including the Stout Report — a University of California study of the district's problems, makeup and potentials—shield Morgan from the camera . . . but not from secretaries Barbara McGowan (left) and Jackie Colotto (right), who had taken him other problems to ponder as well. D.C. Blood Drive Slated

A drive to establish a community reserve blood credit fund is presently being organized by the Jefferson Council P-TA, under the guidance of Mrs. Joseph Kaplan and Mrs. Peter O'Neill.

The Blood Mobile Unit will be at Benjamin Franklin School, 700 Stewart Avenue, Colma, on February 2, from 1 to 7 p.m.

The unit must have 100 pledged donors to start the fund for the community, a spokesman explained.

The Peninsula Memorial Blood Bank now collects, processes, and stores blood for use throughout San Mateo County. If there is no local reserve fund individuals must replace blood used within six months, and must travel outside the community to the bank.

Besides making blood available to residents of the community, a record will be kept for each donor, whose credits may be transferred at his request to anyone in the United States.

Credits may be borrowed for yourself or family, and need not be replaced within six months.

Donor application forms are available through the Jefferson Elementary School District, 101 Lincoln, Daly City, or at Charles Maroosis' Westlake Jewelers in the Westlake Shopping Center.

Child care will be provided by Cadette Girl Scouts, Westlake Association.

Campfire Girls will serve as messengers and Boy Scouts will distribute pamphlets.

PTA members will serve coffee, sandwiches and cookies.

CADETTE GIRL SCOUTS will be among the organizations participating in the Jefferson Council of P-TA's community reserve blood campaign. The girls, like the Cadette above, will assist with baby-sitting while parents donate blood. (Post Photo)

New Bruno Rate Hike For Water

Water Co., according to Vergeer.

The manager's recommendations represent an increase over present rates, but are still considerably below the rates recommended by a consulting firm retained by the city to perform a survey of water service needs.

The present rates in the areas east of Junipero Serra include a 50-cent monthly meter charge, a minimum charge of one dollar for the first 500 cubic feet, and 15 cents per 100 cubic feet for all over 500.

West of Junipero Serra, present rates include a meter charge of 50 cents, and 35 cents per 100 cubic feet for all water used.

A survey report from the consulting firm, Charles S. McCandless and Co., advocated a minimum rate of $3.25 in the "upper zone," and $3.10 in the "lower zone."

Even with the rate increases, San Bruno water customers still receive the lowest prices of any city in the county on the service, Vergeer said.

Richard Griffith, an announced candidate for the city council, spoke in opposition to the water rate increase Monday, and criticized the city's practice of transfering reserve water district revenues into the capital improvement fund.

"I simply do not feel this city's water users should have to bear the burden of capital improvement in areas outside the water system," Griffith said.

"Through this method, landholders who do not use water are exempt from paying their fair share of the capital improvements, which benefit them," he said.

"Because you choose to tax our citizens through increased water rates, rather than an increase in property assessments, you are encouraging developers in the city to procrastinate," Griffith said.

Councilman are expected to act upon the water rate resolution at the next regular meeting.

A $400 Weekend In S.S.F.

The Holiday Inn on Airport Boulevard in South San Francisco was held up for the second time in two days early Sunday morning, police reported.

An armed man entered the lobby of the motel about 3 a.m. and ordered two clerks and a busboy to ile upon the floor, then removed approximately $200 from the cash register, officers said.

The bandit also removed the wallets of the three employes, Hofler Jones, William Whipple and Henry Celli, then fled from the robbery scene on foot.

Early Saturday morning, $200 was taken in a similar robbery. Whipple was on duty alone about 2 a.m. Saturday when a man entered the lobby and "loitered around until the place was empty."

He then brandished a snub-nosed revolver and demanded the register receipts.

Police said the two robberies were committed by different suspects.

The hostelry was held up seven times during 1967, according to police reports.

Bruno Aides' Salaries Up

San Bruno councilman adopted an ordinance setting new salary schedules for the city's treasurer and city clerk Monday night.

Under the new schedule, the city treasurer's salary will range from $375 to $420 per month, the the city clerk will receive $848 to $1,056.

City Clerk Carl Hultberg currently receives $932 per month, and the city treasurer $375.

Council Fills Three Posts

Two new planning commissioners and a park and recreation commissioner were appointed Monday night by the San Bruno City Council.

Girvin Whitney, an accounting officer for an insurance firm, and theatre operator Alfred Smith were named to the planning commission, replacing Commissioners Lyman McGuffin and Frank Tippit, both of whom have moved away from the city.

Mrs. Margaret Koskowski was named to the park and recreation commission.

She replaces John R. McClurg as the San Bruno Parks School District representative on the commission. McClurg's two-year term expired last week.

D.C. Council Duo Seeks Re-Election

Both Daly City incumbent councilmen — Frank Pacelli and Anthony A. Giammona — announced they will file their candidancy certificates later this month for the upcoming April 9 council race.

Pacelli is a long-time councilman in Daly City, first appointed to the council in October 1957 replacing Paul Hupf (now municipal judge) and elected in 1960. He was reelected in 1964.

The veteran politician is currently a delegate to the association of Bay Area Governments, a director of the League of California Cities, director of the Northern County Sanitation District and chairman of the North County Council of Cities.

He was born in San Francisco and moved to Daly City in 1955 with his wife and five children.

Pacilli said he hopes to continue to "serve the people to the best of my ability' and pointed up the fact that the city now enjoys the lowest bonded indebtedness of any city in the State.

"I am ready to meet the problems of the future and feel the development of a sound General Plan (now under way) is an ablolute necessity for the growth of the area," Pacelli said.

"I also recognize the fact that there has to be continuing studies in the areas of recreation, human relations and similar matters," he said.

Giammona, appointed in December 1966 to the council when Albert Polonsky was named city attorney, is on the teaching staff at Westmoor High School.

The former World War II paratrooper was born in Grand Rapids, Michigan, and moved to Daly City in 1951. He lives with his wife and three children in the St. Francis Heights section of the city.

Giammoni s a member of the California Teachers Association, American Federation of Teachers, Westmoor P-TA, Benjamin Franklin P-TA, Pari-Mutuel Employees Guild of California, Local 280, and is a former member of the Teamsters' Union (Local 85.). He is a parishoner of Holy Angels Church and Men's Club and the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

In 1958-59 Giammona was on the recreation commission and was also a charter organizer of the Police Athletic League. He was chosen Coach of the Year in San Mateo County in 1963-64.

Included in the organizations Giammona now serves on is the San Mateo County Greater Highway Committee; Daly City Historical Society; alternate to the Association of Bay Area Governments; and is the finance chairman for the Daly City Boy Scouts and a delegate-at-large for the Serra District Boy Scouts of America.

S.S.F. Crash Injures One

A South San Francisco woman was injured last Tuesday when she lost control of her automobile on Grand Avenue and struck a utility pole.

Margaret C. Brown, 38, of 323 Gardenside Avenue, was injured about 10:15 p.m. when the accident occurred near the Oak Avenue interesection.

She is reported in satisfactory condition at Kaiser Hospital after treatment for multiple lacerations.

Police said the automobile completely severed the utility pole, and firemen were called to the scene after gasoline from the car leaked onto the street.

Walgreen Sales Hit New High

Walgreen sales hit a new record during the firm's first quarter of its fiscal 1968 year — reaching $174,400,000, up 10.5 per cent from the same 1967 period, said C. R. Walgreen, Jr., board chairman, as he addressed the company's annual shareowners meeting in Chicago.

'Decisions' Program At CSM Lauded

Newly bolstered by the support of College of San Mateo and local recreation departments, the "Great Decisions" discussion program — now in its 14th year — expects a record degree of participation for 1968 in San Mateo County.

The program, involving small "neighborhood" groups to be established throughout the county, consists of eight informal meetings during February and March to enable men and women to come to grips with the critical foreign policy issues facing America — to inform themselves, to take their stand and to make their decisions known.

Only cost is $2.50 for the 69-page "Great Decision" book published by the Foreign Policy Association and special sections on each of the weekly discussion topics — ranging from the prospects for enduring peace in the Middle East and the cultural revolution in Communist China to Vietnam pacification and the question of whether our nation has over-extended its power abroad.

Other subjects to be covered include Brazil's significance to the future of Latin America, the new role of Great Britain, the problem of the "two Germanies" and policies required to work for world prosperity.

College of San Mateo's community education office and the recreation departments are cooperating with Mrs. Robert Ziegler, Peninsula director for "Great Decisions," and other organizations in setting up the discussion groups.

Futher information, as well as organizational assistance, may be obtained from the college, Mrs. Ziegler or any of the following individuals and organizations:

Robber Escapes After Death Threat

A armed robber escaped with $230 last Tuesday after threatening the life of a young San Bruno service station attendant, police reported.

Officers said a man dressed in black clothing and carrying a snub-nosed revolver held up Jean's Shell Station on West San Bruno Avenue about 11:45 p.m. as attendant Patrick Wait was recording the night's receipts.

Wait, 15, said two men drove into the service station in a beige sedan, and one of them came inside the office as he worked at the desk.

When the attendant looked up, the man pointed a gun in his face and ordered him to "hand over the money, or I'll kill you."

The bandit then ran back to the car, and the driver headed north on Skyline Drive.

The robber was described as a Mexican-American about 32, five feet, five inches tall,and weighing about 130 pounds.

He wore black cloting and a black hat, according to Wait.

2 Youths Caught In Chase

Two youths were arrested in a stolen automobile in the Crocker Industrial Park north of Brisbane early Wednesday after they attempted to outrun a Daly City patrol car.

Patrolman Russell Cunningham said he spotted an old model sedan speeding on Geneva Avenue about 3 a.m., and pursued the vehicle at speeds in excess of 80 miles per hour into the industrial park area.

The car entered a dead-end street, and Cunningham apprehended one of the occupants after the pair attempted to escape on foot.

Sheriff's deputies captured the other youth with the aid of a police dog.

The two youths, Dennis Cleek, 17, of San Francisco, and Bruce Vjoring, 16, a Daly City resident and Jefferson High School student have been turned over to juvenile authorities.

Police said the automobile was stolen in San Francisco.

SHOPLIFT CITATION

A South San Francisco juvenile was cited to Hillcrest Juvenile Hall Wednesday after being apprehended for alleged shoplifting in the Woolworth store, at 60 Westlake Court, Daly City, according to police reports.

Corey Will Seek Bruno Council Post

George R. Corey, San Bruno attorney announced recently that he will be a candidate for the 1968 San Bruno City Council election.

Corey indicated that his vital interests in the community and his desire to be more effective in that community, have prompted him to run. The candidate stated, "My home, my family, and my business are in San Bruno and I want to play a more important part in this city's future."

The most important issues the city council will deal with in the immediate future, according to Corey, are the Tanforan, San Bruno Canyon, and Navy Land Development, a broadening of the base through acquisition of new industry and employers in the city, and a broader concept of recreation, particularly in the neighborhood areas of the city.

Corey also states he is interested in acquiring greater police protection after dark, in the city park and surrounding area.

Corey states his political philosophy that government is created for the benefit of the people and that the people do not function for the benefit of government.

He stated, "If elected I will seek greater participation from individuals and groups within the city encouraging them to bring their thoughts and feelings before the council so that the city government may operate more properly as an instrument of the people."

Purse Theft

Mollie Brainard of 955 Hillside Boulevard, Daly City, lost her purse, which contained $180, to a purse-snatching "team" in broad daylight Wednesday.

The victim was walking with a small child, Daly City police said, shortly before 1 p.m., in the 100 block of Hillside Boulevard.

Two juveniles suddenly yanked her purse away and fled on foot up Muirwood Drive. Police were unable to locate anyone in the area.

Thompson Replacing Thompson

David Thompson, who has been named Pacifica's public works director and city engineer, will work every Tuesday with members of the coastal community's engineering, works and planning staffs until he officially assumes his post March 1, City Mgr. Bill Masonheimer said today.

Thompson is the 37-year-old assistant director of public works for the city of San Mateo presently. He was selected by Pacifica from 40 applicants.

Masonheimer said Thompson would work with Bill Chapman, former Daly City engineer, who has been filling in at Pacifica as a consultant since the resignation of Kenneth Thompson last year, until he officially takes over the Pacifica department.

After March 1, Masonheimer said, Thompson will be available as needed to the city of San Mateo or to assist with projects there that he has helped to shape.

Prison Term For Youth

Henry Hoadley Guernsey III, 39, of 319 Northwood Drive, South San Francisco, faces a mandatory two to 20-year term in state prison following his conviction on a charge of possession of marijuana.

The sentence is mandatory because Guernsey has prior convictions of burglary and possession of narcotics.

His trial before a jury in the courtroom of Superior Judge Melvin E. Cohn was unusual because two deputy district attorneys tried the case. Edward Pliska started the trial but became ill after the first day. Alan Haverty took over and completed prosecution of the case in two more days of trial.

Guernsey was arrested Nov. 15 when he was caught inside an empty store at Knowles and Mission streets in Daly City. A plastic bag containing enough marijuana for 48 cigarets was found in the trunk of his car.

In addition to the narcotics charge, the jury convicted Guernsey of trespassing. Sentencing was scheduled for 9 a.m., February 1.

Wife Held in D.C. Stabbing Of Husband With Knife

Arrested As She Boarded Bus For SF

A Daly City man was in serious condition today at Mary's Help Hospital after his estranged wife stabbed him in the abdomen with a steak knife yesterday morning, police said.

Mrs. Amlia Droz Rodriguez, 49, of 3082 24th Street, San Francisco was arrested on charges of assault with a deadly weapon as she climbed aboard a San Francisco bound bus following the incident.

According to police, Mrs. Rodriguez visited her 54-year-old husband, Tofilio, to pick up a car owned by both of them which was parked at 127 Evergreen Avenue in Daly City.

As the husband approached the suspect in front of his home, Mrs. Rodriguez allegedly whipped out a steak knife and plunged it into his abdomen, a neighbor-witness told police.

Rodriguez staggered back into the house and called police as his estranged wife fled the scene.

She was arrested as she boarded a bus a short distance away, police said.

The reason for the stabbing was not known at this time, a police department spokesman said, adding "the matter is still under investigation."

Wife's Last Skydive

Plunges 9500 Feet to Death

A young Pacifica mother of four children, who had taken up skydiving 13 months ago with her husband, plunged 9,500 feet to her death Sunday afternoon when her two parachutes failed to open over Livermore.

Mrs. Mary Grantham, 27, 579 Inverness Drive, landed on her back after pinwheeling head over heels the last 2,500 feet of her fall.

She is survived by her husband, Gerald R. Grantham, and two sons and two daughters, Kip, 8, Danny, 5, Melody, 4, and Candy, 2.

Sheriff's deputies said it was the fourth fatal sky plunge within a year for the California Parachute Club.

She had left a plane rented by the California Parachute Club, at 9,500 feet with two other divers, a man named "C. Rice," and a girl whose name was not given to the Alameda County Sheriff's Office.

Ground observers said Mrs. Grantham seemed to be "stunting" with the girl.

"Then two of the chutes opened," said Jim McWhinnie, San Jose owner of the International Diners' Club, "but Mrs. Grantham's didn't.

"I couldn't believe my eyes. She just kept falling."

Other spectators said Mrs. Grantham began tumbling at about 2,500 feet.

Paul Schissler told deputies that at about 1,000 feet she was pitching head over heels, with her hands on her auxiliary chute.

Perry Stevens, at whose Oakland Airport parachute school the Granthams had learned their sport, said Mrs. Granthem was apparently making a desperate attempt to open her reserve chute when she hit the ground just after 1 p.m.

Mrs. Grantham slammed into the ground so hard her auxiliary chute popped open from the impact. Experts said she was traveling at a speed of 120 miles per hour when she hit.

Officers said Mrs. Grantham's body struck at 1790 Hartman Road, near the California Parachute Club's "drop zone" about five miles south of the Livermore Municipal Airport.

Mrs. Grantham was secretary of the club, and had made more than 60 jumps since she and her husband took up the sport in late 1966.

Stevens said the couple were "safe" jumpers and usually pulled their ripcords at an altitude of 3,500 feet, or 500 feet above the minimum safe altitude.

Husband Not There

But yesterday, Mrs. Grantham's husband was not with her.

McWhinnie, who had spoken to Mrs. Grantham as she walked out to the plane to begin skydiving, watched the jump through fieldglasses.

"I said, 'have fun,' just before she climbed into the airplane," he said.

"I saw the three bail out. They were in free fall down to about 3,500 feet.

"I've been flying for 25 years and I've never seen anything like this."

Deputies said four other members of the club parachuted from the plane shortly after Mrs. Grantham's group, and then the pilot apparently realized something had gone wrong, and made an emergency landing.

Witnesses said Mrs. Grantham may have gone into a "vertical spin," and lost contact with the horizon.

Deputies said there was a bent pin on her parachute release, but it could have been caused by the impact of her landing.

A Coroner's investigation was being held Monday to attempt to learn the cause of Mrs. Grantham's death.

They indicated the jump had been from a plane owned and piloted by a Palo Alto man, and kept at the Oakland airport, which had been rented to the parachute club for the day.

'Acrobatic' Couple Robs Hilton Inn in South SF

An acrobatic man and a female companion, both armed with revolvers held up three employes of the Hilton Inn at International Airport on Monday and escaped with $300.

The victims said they were working behind the counter at 4:45 a.m. when the pair entered the office. The man, they said, immediately vaulted the counter, pointed a nickel-plated revolver at them and ordered them to lie on the floor after opening the cash drawer.

In addition to the cash, the man took $100 in checks.

Victims were Jim W. Jacpoy, 22, the desk clerk, of 3650 Colegrove Avenue, San Mateo; Jack Dale Hicks, 24, the night auditor, of San Francisco, and Marilyn Beck, 40, the switchboard operator, of 786 Acacia Avenue, San Bruno.

No getaway car was seen or heard.

$135 Stolen In San Bruno

A cash box containing $135 was taken from the Melody Rambler Co. office on El Camino Real in San Bruno in a burglary Wednesday night, police reported.

Officers said the cash box was taken from the service department office between 11 p.m. Wednesday and 8 a.m. Thursday.

Question Raised Over Transit Study

asking travel habits, incomes, size of famliy and how many cars each family owns.

The answers received are being fed into computers which are expected to grind out volumes of facts concerning habits of residents, plus projected travel data for the area.

The four proposals will be revealed in a series of public hearings starting within the next two months.

Lilly said the report will not include many transportation alternatives presented to the district by interested persons during the past three years.

Included among those suggestions were such ideas as paving over the S.P. tracks for exclusive bus lanes; jet propelled helicopters; buses that ride on a cushion of air over land and water, and, a subway system under the El Camino Real—tthe latter suggested by Board Director and Daly City councilman Michael DeBernardi.

DeBernardi's proposal would have prompted a further study costing some $34,000. It was defeated in a split decision by fellow WBRTA directors Jean Fassler, Kenneth Van Gundy, William Lawson, James Fitzgerald and Howard Looney. Two directors supported the proposal: chairman William Werder and the late George Argiris (director Dan Minto was appointed to the board following Argiris' death in 1966).

The District has spent a projected (until June 30, 1968) $897,129 and Lilly predicted the balance of the special fund "will easily carry the district through to its conclusion."

The money has been spent for salaries and employee benefits (increasing from $24,200 in 1964-65 to $64,530 budgeted in 1967-68); services and supplies ($33,695); professional servies ($84,805); transit surveys ($817,950); fixed assets ($10,938); contingencies ($25,000).

This amounts to a total of $1,145,987, leaving unspent an estimated $92,527.33 at the end of the study, unless future "contingencies" arise during the coming year.

One such "contingency" WBRTA apparently did not foresee when it was formed was the nonavailability of information gathered by BATS in time for incorporation with its own findings.

At the end of 1966 WBRTA decided to spend additional funds to pursue certain studies that BATS could not provide because of a time lag between the groups. In July 1967, the directors voted to increase the Joint Venture contract by $32,900.

Lilly points out his office has been "frugal in the administration of funds .... each year a significant amount of the annual budget has been unspent."

The studies have thus far narrowed the field of possible transportation systems down to three possibilities:

Improvement of existing SP facilities and extension of the trunk line from the present terminus at Third and Townsend strees to Market Street in San Francisco (connect with BARTD); a complete BARTD type system down the corridor to the county line with feeder buses to Peninsula stations, and; a bus rapid transit system throughout the county.

WBRTA engineer Ron Fisher, who joined the district in October 1966, said all ideas presented during public hearings have merit "but none are in a form to show the public at this time."

"We have learned a lot since our start and we can expect to get the feelings of the public on some of these ideas this spring (during open hearings in county cities)," Lilly explained.

Both Lilly and Fisher agreed the county was benefited from its withdrawal from BARTD.

"We have watched their operation and feel we can avoid many of the snags that have affected that district. They have taught a lot of people a lot of things about building a transportation network," Lilly said in referring to BARTD.

Lilly said it was WBRTA'S desire to come up with an efficient rapid transit system that will eliminate traffic congestion on county roads and make residents accessable to job opportunities in other areas.

"By reaching this goal we will not only have enhanced the economy of San Mateo County, but will have aided in the protection of the environment by eliminating smog created by the increasing number of cars using county freeways," Lilly explained.

There is a section of the World Association known as The Trefoil Guild, of which the United States is not yet a member. With the aims to provide an organization for all enrolled members who on ceasing to be actively connected with guiding, want to remain in the movement.

The members accept the responsibilities of keeping alive the spirit of the promise and laws, carrying that spirit into the community, and giving support to Girl Guiding.

THE JEFFERSON SCENE

First-Hand Disclosure

By WENDY WOOLERY

What is the "Jefferson Scene?"

It heads this column all the time, and it has yet to be really defined. Well, recently, John F. Kennedy High School in Fremont saw first-hand what the Jefferson Scene is.

A group of 10 students and three teachers travelled to this school on a "Speaking Tour." They went at the request of the Student Body.

Jefferson is 10 per cent Negro, while Kennedy has two Negroes out of 1400 students.

The students who went tried to explain to those kids what it takes to attain a peaceful atmosphere such as the one at Jeff.

Five Negroes — Karl Johnson, James Williams, James Burns, Dorothy Redmond, and Verdell Lovings — one Chinese — Phil Yee — and three Caucasians — Wendy Woolery, Hazel Walters, and Suzanne Perada — went down to try to give the students the benefits of theie experiences.

The "ambassadors" first talked and answered questions in a large discussion group. (JFK is on modular scheduling, which means that they have lectures one day and small discussion groups the next.)

They discussed "police brutality," ghettos, interracial relationships, and housing.

The ones who carried most of the talking, Karl Johnson and James Williams, answered the questions with intelligence and articulation and with a genuine interest in helping those who asked.

There were not any angry words or heated discussions; just sincere, honest questions with intelligent answers.

The Jefferson Scene came, and it went, but it won't be forgotten for a long time.

The fruits of these discussions won't be reaped right away either, but if there are more class discussions, it has been worth while.

Karl and James showed them where "It's" at, and also were shown that there are lots of folks interested in peace.

The Jefferson Scene is where it's at.

THIS MOLDED SALAD is rather tart and nicely suited to go with a meat, such as roast beef or ham.

MOLDED BEET SALAD

1 pkg. lemon gelatin
1 cup boiling water
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup evaporated milk
¼ cup cider vinegar
1 tbsp. prepared horseradish
1 can julienne cut beets, drained (No. 303 size)
1 cup diced celery

Dissolve the one package gelatin in the one cup of hot water. Add the one-fourth teaspoon salt and cool. Stir in the one cup milk, one-fourth cup vinegar and one tablespoon horseradish and chill until mixture begins to thicken. Fold in the drained beets and one cup of diced celery.

Turn into a lightly oiled one quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with parsley.

A SECOND MOLDED SALAD is sweet and rich with marshmallows, pineapple and apricots, topped with a rich dressing.

APRICOT AND PINEAPPLE SALAD

1 pkg. orange gelatin
three-fourths cup hot water
1 cup fruit juice (use the juice from the apricots and pineapple)
1 can apricots, (303 size), drained
2 flat tins crushed pineapple, drained
¾ cup marshmallows

Dissolve the one package of gelatin in the three-fourth cup hot water. Stir well and add the fruit juices. Remember to save ¼ cup each for the dressing: (If there isn't enough juice add enough orange juice to make up the cup). Set aside until it becomes syrupy. Cut the drained apricots into small pieces and add these, plus the two cans of drained pineapple to the gelatin mixture, along with the three-fourths cup of marshmallows. Return to the refrigerator to set.

SALAD DRESSING

¼ cup sugar
1½ tablespoons flour
1 egg, small
¾ cup pineapple juice
¼ cup apricot juice
1 tablespoon butter
½ cup whipped cream

Combine in a saucepan the one-fourth cup sugar, one and one-half tablespoons flour, one egg and the one-fourth cup each pineapple and apricot juice. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thick. Then add the one tablespoon butter. Allow to cool and then fold in the whipped cream. Serve over molded salad.

THE WESTMOOR HIGH stage band drew plaudits last week of not only local residents, but of jazz arranger Harry Tubbs, a member of the Daly City school's audience. (Post Photo)

League of Women Voters Sets Meet

The Provisional League of Women Voters of North San Mateo County will give the public an opportunity to better understand the problems involved in having separate governments for the 93 cities and nine counties of the Bay Area when they meet at 9:30 a.m. today, at 3160 Oakmont, South San Francisco.

Among those to discuss Bay Area government will be Mayor Grace McCarthy of Pacifica and Mrs. David Wendell, first vice president of the League of Women Voters.

At its February 8 general meeting the League will discuss San Mateo county government, including the County Master Plan, County Charter Revision, County Board of Supervisors, Regional Planning Commission, LAFCO (Local Agency Formation Commission) and West Bay Rapid Transit District.

This meeting also will be held at 3160 Oakmont, South San Francisco, at 9:30 a.m.

The League of Women Voters, is a non-partisan organization whose purpose is to encourage citizens to take part in their government. These two meetings are open to the public and will give local women an opportunity to become more informed.

Tubbs Lauds Stage Band

Last week's performance by the Westmoor Stage Band drew an audience of 200, and demonstrated the ability of this group to again gather honors at Stage Band Festival as they did last year.

One of the audience was Harry Tubbs, whose arrangements were among those used in the jazz concert.

Tubbs, the former trumpet player with the Buddy De Franco Band, is now devoting most of his time to jazz arranging. He revealed after the concert that he considered this one of the best stage bands he had heard.

Amplified solos using reverbs were used publicly for the first time by the 25-member group.

Greg Adams soloed on trumpet and also directed the band in "Work Song," to show the audience, as Student Leader, how the members are encouraged to develop leadership qualities by Howard Loeffler, director of the Stage Band.

Linda Bogatin, pianist, Brenda Wells, vocalist, Russ Kerger, alto sax, Rich Zimmerman, clarinet, Bill Brown, guitar, Bill Ross, trumpet, Pete Markovich, tenor sax, were also featured solists.

Mike Hinton explained and demonstrated the role of the drummer.

Record Hop At Pacifica

There will be a Record Hop, conducted by the Pacifica Park, Beach & Recreation Department, at Sharp Park School Cafeteria, on January 27, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Fees for the evening will be members, 50 cents; new members, $1.25.

Guests will not be allowed at this dance.

WALK ON A MAGIC CARPET

One item in your home that can add a magic touch of elegance is the right carpet or rug.

The good old standbys — solid colors, tweeds and sculptured carpets are still in great demand but are now available in a much wider color range than ever before. Some manufacturers offer a single carpet in as many as 20 different colors which makes it possible for the buyer to select the exact shade needed.

Nation-wide avocado green and gold are still the most popular colors with many shades of blue running a close third place. Lime green and bright yellow are causing increased interest as are various shades of pink and purple.

Plush heavily piled shag rugs are once more coming into their own both in solid colors and mixtures in either wool or synthetics.

In keeping with womens fashions, there is a great demand for glitter, shine and lustre in floor coverings together with the accompanying larger, bolder patterns in everything from all out mod designs to conservative

A visit to our floor covering department will add magic to your home. traditional.

Together with all of this there is still a strong demand for Oriental patterned rugs, both imported and domestic.

Rockhounds Encourage Visitors

An invitation has been extended to those interested in rockhounding, to visit Daly City Rockhound Club shop at 200 Crocker Avenue, Daly City, Tuesday through Friday evenings between 7 and 9:30 p.m.

Meetings of the group are open to the public and are held on the first and third Monday evenings, commencing at 8 p.m., at the Daly City War Memorial Building, 6655 Mission Street.

Speaker for the social meeting February 5 will be Tom Colman, instructor of the San Francisco Gem & Mineral Society on Intarsias, a type of mosaic art which utilizes natural rock in the formation of pictures, plaques, murals and other decorative works.

Programs featuring many different segments of the hobby are being planned.

Three field trip chairmen have been appointed this year and trips to the Mojave Desert, San Benito County jade area, the Mother Lode country and the Lake County "diamond" fields are in the offing, among others.

Activity is the theme for the new year.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

Small cavities in the teeth can be filled more easily and with less discomfort than large ones.
If decay is neglected it leads to infection and abscess formation. An infected tooth is a hazard to good health and often must be removed.
A tooth that has been lost should be replaced by an artificial one. If it is not, the other teeth will shift. This shifting may lead to more decay and to diseases of the gums.
Irregular placement of the teeth should be corrected for many reasons: To improve appearance, speech, and the ability to chew foods and to help prevent other dental diseases.
Have your dentist check for cavities and follow his recommendations if treatment is needed.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extraction for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth. Dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

20 Teachers Picket Jeff Board Meeting

Twenty union teachers picketed last Tuesday's meeting of the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees in Daly City to protest the creation of a new public information post "and the board's actions in general during the past year."

The "informational pickets," all members of the district American Federation of Teachers' chapter, passed out literature charging trustees created the new public information post "in order to build themselves a new image at the expense of the taxpayers."

"Creation of the position of public information officer, done without advance notice for a public hearing, will cost an estimated $20,000 to $30,000 per year in tax money that should be spent for educational purposes in the schools," the pamphlets stated.

"The school board of the Jefferson Elementary District has repeatedly explained to taxpayers and employees that it represents one of the poorest districts in the county," according to the A.F.T. pamphlet, and the salary increase granted teachers for the current year was "not even equivalent to a cost-of-living increase."

In addition to the new public information post, the union teachers were specifically protesting the board's granting a 7.1 per cent average pay increase for administrators this year, and the sending of six district representatives to a convention in Miami, according to A.F.T. president Robert Lasley.

"We are attempting to focus attention upon the board's performance in general during the past year," Lasley said, "and arouse public concern."

The pamphlets handed out urged district residents to "call members of the board and insist they rescind the action taken to create the position of public information officer," and also to "demand a full accounting of public monies spent on board excursions."

They also recommended that residents "insist" a California Teachers' Association ethics study conducted in the district last year be publicly discussed.

Board members and district administrators have been screening applicants for the new public information post for several weeks, and an appointment is expected to be announced soon.

In defining duties related to the new post, district officials have stressed the need for a professional writer to assist in such matters as applications for federal grants and the promotion of bond issues.

A number of other districts throughout the state have established similar posts in recent years.

The job description indicates a salary in the $10,000-to-$12,000 per year range.

However, Lasley said Tuesday he considers his $20,000-to-$30,000 per year estimate "conservative, when such expenditures as additional secretarial work, office space and operating expenses are included in the total cost."

Board members were apparently taken aback by the picket line outside their meeting chambers at the district administrative building, and bustled past the parading teachers one-by-one, declining invitations to read the union literature.

The meeting Tuesday was a special study session called to consider policy matters.

White Front To Start Store Work

White Front Stores, Inc., January 31 will begin construction of the first major downtown department store to be built in San Francisco in two decades.

To be erected on the eight-and-one-half acre site of the old Seals Stadium — recently acquired for $2.5 million — the new White Front will be bounded by Sixteenth Street, Potrero Avenue, and Bryant Street. The chain's twenty-sixth store, it will be a 170,000 square foot structure built on two levels.

With 100 departments, there will also be a 25,000 square foot supermarket, and a gasoline and tire center of about 10,000 square feet, and the front of the store will contain about 8,000 square feet of service shops, operated under names other than White Front.

It is expected that the store will open in the Fall of this year, and will draw shoppers living within eight miles of the location.

Charge Is Reduced In Brawl Death

William McEnroe, a San Bruno man accused of fatally injuring his father during the course of a family argument last week, was scheduled to appear for further arraignment in North County Municipal Court today.

San Bruno police said a charge of assault to committ murder brought against McEnroe in connection with the incident has been reduced to involuntary manslaughter.

McEnroe was arrested Tuesday after his 71-year-old father, Gilbert McEnroe, collapsed after the two came to blows during an argument at the family dinner table.

San Mateo Coroner's officials said and autopsy report is pending in the case.

'Youth Week' For Daly City Pupils

Fifteen Daly City high school students were guests of the city and the chamber of commerce at a joint luncheon meeting Thursday in connection with the "Youth in Government Week" activities.

The students, juniors and seniors from Westmoor and Jefferson high schools, are spending from four to six hours per day with city officials this week in a program designed to familiarize teen-agers with the workings of city government.

Mayor Bernard Lycett presided at the meeting Thursday, held at International Joe's Restaurant, and the students were introduced to chamber members and guests by their "counterparts" on the city's staff and the council.

Leon Colvin, a student at Jefferson, has been selected to serve as mayor for the week. Colvin was chosen by the other four honorary councilmen selected by the two schools.

Councilmen include Jimmy Rance and Richard Rochetta from Jefferson and Bill Puddy and Gregory Brewer from Westmoor.

Other students participating in the program are Wendy Woolery, city attorney; Diane Cortopassi, city engineer; John Spittler, treasurer; Dorothy Redmond, police chief; George Muller, city manager; Patricia Lynch, city clerk; Gary Abrams, director of finance; Russ Colunga, fire chief; Patricia Eassa, librarian, and Leighton Ah Po, director of recreation.

The students will preside at a special "Youth Council" meeting Monday night at City Hall.

The public is invited to attend the special council meeting, Mayor Lycett said.

Pacifican To Coast Group

Al Rosenberg, a veteran member of the Pacifica Planning Commission, has been named chairman of the group.

His election by collegues marks the third time Rosenberg has been named to the chairmanship. Lee Forrester was the outgoing chairman.

PETER C. COLLIANDER is shown with the photographs that won him six awards at the Northern California Council of Camera Clubs' annual competition recently. His "Trees No. 1" won the Brooks Camera Trophy for first place in miniprints, and his "Doorknob" won the Brooks award for second place in miniprints. A Camera Trophy was won for third place in the amateur section with "Sand and Shadows." Fifth place in amateur section won a ribbon, and a color slide entitled, "Open Window," took a four-place ribbon in the "A" group for color slides. Colliander, of 101 Balboa Way, San Bruno, is a member of the M4C Camera Club of Millbrae, under the name of Portola Camera Club, which meets Thursday nights.

Four Arrested At Shop Center

Taken into custody at the Linda Mar Shopping Center, after ten ounces of marijuana allegedly were found in their possession were:

John F. Faulkenbury of 2066 Placer Street, Redding; Ronald W. Hackler, 18, of 6381 Sacramento Street, Redding; John S. Hackler, 21, of 6381 Sacramento Street, Redding, and David Nichella, 19, of 11 Brocker Broderick Street, No. 5, San Francisco.

Police said a special officer at the shopping center became suspicious when he saw the four cruising around the center at 12:20 a.m.

Patrolman Charles Roberts, responding to the special officer's call, said he obtained permission to search the car from its owner, Faulkenbury.

During the search, Roberts assertedly found a "lid" of marijuana in the pocket of a jacket on the front seat.

Roberts, then searching the suspects, reportedly found another "lid" in John Hackler's pocket.

New Building In Brisbane

Permits for new building totalling $47,670 were issued last month in Brisbane, according to administrative secretary Mrs. Joan Wilson.

Permits issued were to Edward A. Schwenderlauf; dwelling at 772 Sierra Point Road, $23,500, and dwelling at 784 Sierra Point Road, $23,500; Mrs. E. Yarborough, new awning at 365 Visitacion Avenue, $370; Brisbane Liquors, new sign at 341 Visitacion Avenue, $300.

Bernicchi To Head Water Committee

Robert V. Bernicchi, engineer-manager, North San Mateo County Sanitation District, has been named chairman of the newly organized San Mateo County waste discharge liaison committee.

The committee was established recently by the Board of Supervisors in response to requests from the San Francisco Bay-Delta Water Quality Control Program and from the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board. Bernicchi said the local committee will serve as an exchange point for information concerning state and San Mateo County plans for upgrading water quality in this area.

At the committee's first meeting, in the Council Chambers, Daly City City Hall, Ralph Brown, deputy project director for the State's Bay-Delta Program, explained that similar liaison groups are being formed in 11 other counties within the Program's main study area. He said the purpose is to give local interests every opportunity to participate in the planning so that existing or projected sewage treatment and collection facilities may be integrated with any regional system which may be found feasible in the current Bay-Delta study. A report on its findings is due for presentation to the Legislature in 1969.

Another purpose in establishing the liaison committee is to keep each county better informed of progress being made in the State's water quality planning activities, Brown said.

Speaking for the Regional Water Quality Control Board, Fred Dierker, chief engineer, stated that he hoped that this committee would serve a two fold purpose as a sounding board for the water quality standards requirements set by the Regional Board.

Inn Reports First Robbery

The Holiday Inn on Airport Boulevard in South San Francisco reported its first robbery of the new year on Saturday.

In 1967, the well-known hostelry was held up no less than seven times, according to police reports.

Police said on Saturday a man entered the Inn's lobby shortly after 2 a.m. and waited around until everyone had left except clerk William F. Whipple.

Walking up to Whipple, the robber pulled out a snubnosed revolver, pointed it at the clerk and announced "this is a robbery."

After pocketing some $200 in receipts, the gunman fled on foot, Whipple told police.

A Monthly Event

Daly City Musicale Set By Concert Association

The Daly City Concert Association will present outstanding artists at its Saturday Musicale debut on January 27 at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Community Center Auditorium.

Dave Peters, producer and host for this monthly Saturday Musicale, announced that recording artist Dick Goodwin will headline the evening's music.

Goodwin, a jazz drummer and show business entertainer, abandoned this career for a new found singing career at the age of thirty-one.

His tenor voice has been recorded on Word, Sacred and Cornerstone Records.

In 1959, Dick was voted the most outstanding male voice in the sacred field by the National Evangelical Film Foundation.

Vocal soloist is Idee Peters, wife of producer Dave Peters. Idee began her singing career in night clubs and show business in Pennsylvania. She was featured soloist in television series in Sacramento and Denver.

Mrs. Peters' latest album, produced by Radiant Song Records, is "Boundless Love" and features two of her own compositions.

Other musical guests are the Allegiant Quartet of Santa Cruz, and marimbist Jo Bickel of Los Gatos. Audience favorites will be led by Peters. To make it possible for entire families and many youth to attend, there is no admission charge.

The War Memorial Community Center Auditorium is located at 6655 Mission Street in Daly City. The concert will get underway at 8 p.m.

Judy Bryant And Stephen QuelleteWed

Standards of gladioli banked the altar of St. Robert's Catholic Church Saturday for the wedding of Judy Diane Bryant and Stephen Henry Ouellette.

Judy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Langley Bryant recited her vows in a street-length dress of lace over satin and carried a round bouquet of baby roses.

Alexa Rue was the sole attendant for Judy in a short brocade dress with a white orchid corsage. Thomas Korosiek served as best man for Stephen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Ouellette.

Mrs. Bryant received guests at the Lazy V Restaurant after the ceremony in a dark pink brocade dress. Mrs. Ouellette chose an emerald green dress, and both women pinned on white orchids.

For traveling to a Lake Tahoe honeymoon, the new Mrs. Ouellette changed into a pink and white dress. They will live in San Mateo.

The bride, a graduate of Capuchino High School, is the sister of Mark, Kerry and Kim Bryant. Her husband's school was San Mateo High School,

New sales records for Cadillac in 1967 were reported recently by William V. McDonald, zone manager in San Francisco.

A total of 8,207 buyers of new Cadillacs in northern California helped set the new sales records for both the zone and the new national record of 208,112 domestic deliveries.

McDonald stated that the sales increase of nearly 6 per cent was the result of a consistent demand for new Cadillacs throughout the year, but especially so during the final quarter during which the 1968 model was introduced.

In addition, W. H. Niven, regional manager for the West, stated that a new sales record for the region's 13 states had been set during 1967. A total of 33,797 new Cadillacs were sold during 1967, representing a gain of 6.85 per cent in sales over 1966.

Mercury two-door hardtops and convertibles equipped with Colony Park "yacht deck" side paneling will be introduced this month, Lincoln-Mercury Division announced today.

The sporty, wood-tone applique will be available on the 1968 Mercury Park Lane two-door hardtop and convertible and the recently introduced Mercury Brougham two-door hardtop.

Although the new Mercury side paneling option is unique, it does have an historical precedent. When Lincoln-Mercury resumed production after World War II, an unusual "Sportsman Convertible" with real wood paneling was introduced. The car was a popular item among young people and was affectionately dubbed "Woody." The division's initial use of wood paneling occurred in 1941 with the introduction of its first station wagon.

Wood exteriors, however, had basic maintenance problems and were susceptible to the corrosive effects of climate. It was not until the introduction of all-metal station wagon body by Ford Motor Company in 1952 that the wood-grain appearance began to achieve widespread acceptance. Since station wagons were the traditional bearers of wood paneling it was logical that car makers chose them for the simulated wood appearance.

Appointment of Merle C. Lindsey as assistant manager of Chevrolet's Pacific Coast regional office at Oakland has been announced by Lee N. Mays, the division's general sales manager.

Lindsey replaces Max A. Young, who has served in the position since January, 1966, and has been appointed assistant Great Lakes regional manager at Chicago. For the past year and a half, Lindsey has been assistant manager of Chevrolet's Midwest regional office at Kansas City.

The Chevrolet Pacific Coast regional office serve more than 660 Chevrolet dealers in a nine-state area.

A Coronet 440 two-door coupe has been introduced by Dodge Division, it was announced recently by Robert B. McCurry, general manager.

The new model features the higher styled exterior and interior trim of the 440 series and brings to 15 the number of models offered in the 1968 Coronet line. A Coronet Deluxe coupe was introduced in September.

Coronet coupes, distinguished by the same roof line found in higher priced hardtop models and rear vent windows instead of the roll-down type, are new to the Dodge line for 1968 and replace the two-door sedan.

Three Children Hit In S.S.F. Accidents

Three children were struck down by automobiles on South San Francisco city streets Wednesday in three separate accidents, police reported.

Two of the accidents occurred within a five-minute time period shortly after 8 a.m., and the third at 3:35 p.m.

Seven year old Joseph Green, of 621 Commercial Avenue, was injured about 8:20 a.m. when he walked into the path of a car driven by Frances M. Smith, 211 Rockwood Drive, at the intersection of Grand Avenue and Spruce.

Police said the child walked into the street against a red light.

He was treated for bruises and abrasions at Kaiser Hospital and later released.

About three minutes after the Green child was injured, 11-year-old Richard Huntsman, 721 Grand Avenue, was struck by a car driven by Donald A. Frenchi, 707 Miller Avenue.

The second accident occurred at the intersection of Miller and Magnolia Street, police said.

The child was treated for lacerations at Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City.

Wednesday afternoon, two-year-old Daniel Proctor, 7 Chapman Street, walked into the side of a car driven by Sandra Fora, 82 Arroyo, near the corner of Linden Avenue and Airport Boulevard.

Officers said the vehicle was traveling at a slow rate of speed, and the child's injuries were described as "minor." He did not require hospitalization.

Coast Quarry Permit Is Extended

The Pacifica City Council has extended for three months the use permit for operation of a quarry on the Mike Cozzolino property off Sharp Park Road.

The Council also granted a use permit for construction of a million and a half dollar Mormon Church on Cozzolino property.

It denied, however, a permit to construct an access road from Sharp Park Road, which Masonhaimer noted "we hope will encourage Cozzolino.

Pacifica City Manager, Bill Masonheimer said the council action Wednesday night would "allow" Cozzolino and members of the San Mateo Junior College District board to "get together on a proposed access route from Sharp Park Road to the Cozzalino property and over the school district's right of way."

Masonheimer said that "in both actions the council has moved in such a direction that it will tend to encourage all parties concerned to get together."

These parties include the Kaiser Sand and Gravel company that operates the quarry, the Church and the college district.

The road Pacifica hopes would be constructed across Cozzelino property over the junior college right of way ultimately would be a four-lane divided road, Masonheimer said, "which we think eventually will become the main access to the junior college."

Guns Stolen In Daly City

Burglars Wednesday raided the Daly City home of Emile Santo Gardella, taking an assortment of rifles, shotguns and handguns, Daly City police reported.

Gaining entry through a rear window which they smashed, the burglars also took money and jewelry from the Gardella residence sometime between 7:30 a.m. and 10 p.m.

The guns were in a locked cabinet.

Police are still investigating the burglary, but preliminary reports indicate the loss will be in excess of $1,500.

Rams, S.S.F. Still On Top

North League Crucial Near

There was enough pressing going on in the North Peninsula League Friday to make the gymnasiums look like major cleaning establishment.

But after it was all over there still were only two—South San Francisco and Westmoor — with upset-minded Oceana looming on the horizon. The Rams defeated Half Moon Bay, 61-41; the Warriors rallied for a 63-51 victory over Jefferson; and the Oceana Sharks held off a fierce Terra Nova rally for a 72-61 win.

Barring a major upset in next today's H B M - S S F game, the two title favorites of the NPL will face off with unblemished 4-0 marks next Friday night when SSF entertains Westmoor in a crucial that will go a long way towards determining this season's champion.

Bill Purcell's Warriors had to resort to a full-court press in the second half to overcome a seven-point Jefferson lead. In the first half neither team managed more than a three-point lead despite a splendid 18-point performance in that half by Jeff's forward, Tony Schrock.

In fact, the Indians started the second half with eight straight points and appeared ready to stave off the Warriors the rest of the way. But the usually calm Indians seemed to panic under the Warrior press and before it was over the Warriors had stolen the ball eight times before the Indians could reach midcourt.

Playing under the adverse condition of having their two top scorers, Alex Smith and Steve Murphy, in early foul trouble, the Warriors got an excellent performance both on offense and defense from guard Rocky Walker, who scored 17 points and stole the ball numerous times. His theft-partner was quick Dick Young, who personally accounted for four steals in the final period that saw the Warriors outscore Jeff, 23-8.

Smith got three quick fouls in the opening four minutes of the game while Murphy had four at halftime and fouled out just seconds into the second stanza. Center Steve Venters controlled the boards during the Warriors' late splurge while Young did a good defensive job on Schrock, holding him to just four after intermission.

"We were really tight during the game and if it weren't for the press we might have really been in serious trouble," admitted Purcell.

Terra Nova employed a full-court press, but with less success, as the Tigers couldn't quite rally enough to overcome a fourth-quarter 19-point lead by Rick Warne's Oceana Sharks.

Once again the Tigers fell quickly behind, 25-10, at the end of one period. But Terra Nova started pressing and forced Oceana into numerous fouls that saw top-scorer Tim Sershan get four before the half, brother Tom had three at the half and guard Mike Morganti get another four.

But despite the foul handicap Tim Sershan rammed through 34 points, the second time he has topped 30 this year, and personally kept the Tigers at a distance during the time they made their last gasp run at the lead.

Twice the Tigers managed to close the gap to five points with its full-court press but it was as close as they could get. Numerous scoring opportunities were thwarted in the late going by shot-blocking center Charlie Nelson, who was the Sharks' major factor on the boards.

Once again the Tiger offense was carried by the two starting guards. Gary Hernandez popped in 19 points while his partner, George Martinez, managed another 18. Center Rich English got another 10 in a losing effort.

Meanwhile, winless Half Moon Bay was kept that way by the Daly City Ram quintet. Tony Giamonna's charges pulled away in the second quarter and, although the game was never broken wide open, the injured Cougars were never a serious threat to overtake the lead.

Another fine floor game from guard Joe Anibale paved the way for the Rams' fourth NPL win with 10 assists and 12 points to go with forward Gary Soules' even dozen.

"All five starters hustled well," said Giamonna. "Now our only problem will be to stay in shape for the SSF game Friday. We have the next league date off."

Randy Houston did a creditable job for the Cougars with 11 rebounds and 16 points. Starting forward Ray Hartman is still out with a chipped bone in his elbow and may not see action this week for the Cougars.

Better Days Forecast For Mighty Tangs

By HAVEN NESTWELL
Post Correspondent

For Crestmoor High School's basketball team, the best was none too good, and for arch-rival Capuchino, the bst is yet to come.

Capuchino, with all-league forward Roger Carmine still operating on a bad leg, scored an 82-70 victory over Crestmoor Friday night in a San Bruno city rivalry which ended in the Mustangs' third triumph in five Mid-Peninsula League games.

And Cap will get tougher, according to Crestmoor Coach John Christgau, whose Falcons sustained their fourth league loss without a win.

"Carmine still looks hampered," Christgau said of the Mustang southpaw, "but Cap should really be strong within two weeks."

Cap nearly put the game out of reach in the opening quarter when Jim Johnson's juggernaut outscored their intra-city rivals, 27-16.

Paced by the excellent all-around game of Matt Kriletich, who scored 23 points for the victors, Cap was never in serious trouble after the first stanza.

Despite the defeat, Christgau had cause for cheer from his own troops. Tony Snethen, a sophomore, led all scorers with 26 points and Dong Broga got 20 rebounds and 20 points.

"Broga kept us in the game," Christgau siad.

Carmine bagged 13 points in his injury-hampered condition and should make Capuchino a team to reckon with as his speed and maneuverability returns in games to come.

Adult League Basketball

Dial Glass came back from a slow first half to defeat the Pacifica Raiders, 51-35, last week in Pacifica's Adult Rectreation League basketball action.

The victory marked the second straight win for the Dial Glass team, and the Raiders suffered their first loss of the season.

In other league action, the Pacifica All Stars defeated Madern Sales, 50-22, and Willy's Wonders handed the Manor Barber Shop team a 56-31 defeat.

Willy's Wonders have a 1-1 record for the season, and the All Stars 1-0, having drawn a bye in the first round of action.

DRYSDALE SIGNS

NEW ORLEANS — The upstart world championship tennis group added another star to its expanding fold Friday, signing a long-term contract with South Africa's top-ranked player and Davis Cup mainstay, Cliff Drysdale.

Bulldogs Snap Back From Losing Streak

Jack Avina has his 100th victory as College of San Mateo basketball coach and predicts things are on the upswing for his Bulldogs.

CSM took a 54-49 road victory from rival Foothill Friday night and now will have the home-court advantage for the next three games, starting Friday night against San Jose CC.

The Bulldogs, now 1-4 in the GGC, had the misfortune of meeting the league's top four teams at the outset. But Avina feels, "We have a good team and will still compile a winning record in the league."

Veteran CSM center Craig Farley led the way for San Mateo last night. He maneuvered his 6-7, 230-pound frame around the key for ten fields goals (in 17 tires) and a total of 23 points, while charging the backboards for 12 rebounds.

Meanwhile, Bulldog forward Fred Garrett held Foothill scoring ace Jeff Frost to his lowest total of the year, five points (and only eight floor shots.) Prior to the game, Frost was ranked second in the league and sixst in the state in scoring with a 22.2 average.

A man CSM didn't reckon with, however, was the other Owl forward, Simon O'Hanlon. The 6-1 soph peppered the hoops for 35 of Foothill's 49 points, hitting 15 out of 24 shots from the field.

That established a new Foothill school record, bettering the 33 points by Chuck Degan in 1960.

It also almost allowed the Owls to pull off a tremendous comeback win.

San Mateo led by 21 points at 40-19 with 15 minutes left in the game when O'Hanlon turned on the afterburners.

CSM	G.	F.	T.	Foothill	G	F	T
Farrett	2	6	10	Frost	2	1	5
Farley	10	3	23	O'Hanlon	15	5	35
Dilley	3	1	7	Keplinger	1	0	2
Grant	1	0	2	Nordell	0	1	1
Dempsey	0	0	0	Baumgrtnr	1	0	2
Carbo	1	3	5	Davis	2	0	4
Totals	20	14	54	Totals	21	7	49

CSM didn't make a field goal as Foothill completely erased the deficit to tie the count at 43 all with 4:15 left.

Farley immediately made a lay-in to put CSM on top again. But O'Hanlon came back with an 18-foot jumper to tie the school record and knot the count once again.

San Mateo then went ahead for good on two charity tosses by Garrett with 3:42 left and extended the margin over the pressing Owls to 54-47 before O'Hanlon got the Foothill record on a short jumper with 14 seconds to play.

O'Hanlon made all of the straight corner jumpers.

Owls' last 19 points and 27 of their last 29. At one point in the Foothill raly, he sank five straight corner jumpers.

CSM was in control of the game throughout the first half, working up a 15-2 lead at the outset and holding a 30-18 advantage at the intermission.

The Bulldogs made 52 per cent of their floor shots in the first half but cooled off after the break for a game average of 43.5. Foothill reversed the procedure with a 50 per cent performance in the second half and a game average of 46.6.

Thanks to Farley, San Mateo held a 35 to 26 advantage in rebounds.

Giant Players To Participate In 'Kick Off'

San Francisco Giant's catcher Tom Haller and third baseman Jim Davenport will be among the special guests Saturday at Pacific's Second Annual Baseball Kick Off Day.

Haller, a Giant regular for the past four years and one of the National League's leading catchers, has hit 93 home runs since his major league career began in 1961.

Davenport has played for the Giants since they moved to San Francisco in 1958, and is a veteran of more than 12 years in professional baseball.

The two Giant stars along with a number of former professional baseball greats, will offer free instruction to Pacifica youths between 8 and 18 in a clinic session 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday at Terra Nova High School.

Among the ex-professionals participating in the program are Dolph Camilli, Dario Lodigiani, Charlie Silvera, Curt Decker, Erv Dolman, Ernie Domecus, Marino Peiretti, Jim Davis, Gene Caviglio, Lloyd Dickey, Rich Seramaglia and Gus Buono.

Ram Wrestlers Beat Crestmoor

The Westmoor Rams brought an abrupt end to Crestmoor High's winning streak on the mat last week, defeating the Falcons 21-20 on the Westmoor mats.

Crestmoor appeared to be on the way to an undefeated mat season, having already defeated such North Peninsula League powerhouses as Oceana, El Camino and South San Francisco, but the Rams came from behind late in the meet last week and took seven of the thirteen matches.

SSF Soccer Team Beats Terra Nova

South San Francisco High School's soccer team handily defeated newcomer Terra Nova High last Criday, 5-0, on the Warriors' field.

Jim Zylker scored two, one on a penalty and one after an assist, and Dave Sarracino scored one goal.

The Warriors now have a two win, one tie record for league play, with only Westmoor avoiding defeat on their field.

The Warriors' junior varsity team matched the varsity point for point Friday, defeating the Terra Nova juniors 5-0.

The junior Warriors have tallied three straight wins thus far this season.

Sports Star Killed In Viet Action

Lance Cpl. Robert J. Molossi, USMC, originally reported as missing, has been reported by the Defense Department to have been killed by hostile action in Vietnam. He was the son of Theodore G. Molossi, 15 Beta Avenue, Daly City.

A 1964 graduate of Jefferson High School, Molossi was an outstanding athlete, and held varsity letters in wrestling, basebal and basketball.

He was a member of the Block J Society, and served on the school's student executive board and rally commission.

Upon graduating from Jefferson, he attended the College of San Mateo and later City College in San Francisco.

S.S.F. Boy Wins Title

A 10-year-old South San Francisco boy was named "Outstanding Northern California Junior Judoist" last week at the Northern California Judo Associaton meeting in San Francisco.

David Firkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Firkins and a student at the Cahill Judo Academy in San Bruno, received the title last Saturday.

David was a finalist in the national judo competition in Denver last year, and has won numerous local and regional titles.

Another Cahill student, George Golda, won the "outstanding judoist" nomination last year.

'Super Bowl' Reflection

AFTER SEEING the Raider-Packer "Super Bowl" we've convinced ourselves that the 13-10 pre-season 49er victory over the Raiders wasn't a fluke and was, in fact, just about right.

Most Raider boosters-49er critics say the Raiders "gave it away, that the 49ers won on breaks. If the Raiders indeed lost because of the breaks, the breaks came because of 49er experience and confidence, and that's exactly what beat the Raiders in the Packer game, experience and the confidence which comes with it.

Don't forget, at the time the Raiders and 49ers met, the Raiders' confidence had not yet been built up with that long winning streak, and the 49ers were being called contenders, and hadn't yet run into that crippling string of injuries which went far toward producing the losing string which damaged their confidence.

The 49ers were three points better than the Raiders, the Packers were 19 points better than the Raiders — and that made Green Bay 16 better than San Francisco, which wouldn't have worked out better on a computer.

★ ★ ★

WE WONDER, incidentally, if television producers know that Johnny Rauch, not Al Davis, coaches the Raiders. Not once in the two-week period prior to or after the game was Rauch interviewed by television. Always it was Davis. We know that Davis built the current team, and did a great job of organization in a short period of time, but Rauch did, afterall, coach the Raiders through one of football's all-time longest win streaks, and we believe it was totally unfair of television not to recognize Rauch for his fine coaching job.

FOLLOWING UP on last week's array of what we consider particularly surprising and - or interesting pro football statistics, we offer some team statistics for your perusal:

The 49ers have the first and third highest all-time totals for first downs in a season: 292 ('65) and 282 ('66).

That season of '65 was quite an offensive year for the 49ers, as they also totaled the third highest total yards gained in a season, 5,270. The Rams, though, are the real champs in that category, having chalked up the first, second and fourth highest all-time totals: 5,506 ('51), 5,420 ('50), and 5,187 ('54).

Continuing in that great offensive era of 1965-66 (haven't times changed?), the 49ers hung up the second and third highest totals of completed passes (272, 1965; 261, 1966), the fourth most yards gained from passing in a season (3,487, '65), and tied for the second highest total of TD passes in a season (35 in 1965).

If you haven't already guessed it, the Chicago Bears — at least statistically—are the meanest, or, putting it in the terminology of a coach, most aggresive team of all time. They have the top three all-time totals (sharing first with Washington) for most penalties in a season, at 122,121, and 118. They also have the first and third most penalties in a game: 22 and 18. Finally, the Bears have the first and third most total yards penalized in a season, 1,107 and 1,066.

CONTINUING the statistical kick, here are some NBA facts and figures we've found interesting:

Philadelphia has had only three leading scorers in its 18 year history: Dolph Schayes (12 times), Wilt Chamberlain (3) and Hal Greer (3).

Kenny Sears, of Santa Clara fame and a former Warrior, now retired, holds the fifth best all-time career throw percentage (82.6) and tenth highest all-time career field goal percentage mark (45.5). Our question is, why didn't Ken — who never seemed to quite realize his full potential — shoot more?

This is no surprise, but is unique. Of the 41 top single game rebound marks, 37 are held by only two men. You've guessed it; Chamberlain and Bill Bussell. The Wilt has 23 of the top marks, Russell 14.

Elgin Baylor has the top scoring average in playoff games: 31.3. Chamberlain is second at 30.4.

Rick Barry has the best average in All-Star competition, at 24.0.

And finally, just to make you all feel like you know something, guess what team has the best "career" winning percentage? Give up? Would you believe Boston, at 62.6?

★ ★ ★

ONE MORE UNIQUE FACT. Did you know that Red Grange made Grantland Rice's 1925 All American team listed as a quarterback?

IDEA OF THE WEEK — Baseball pitchers' recrods are protected statistically when a fielder makes an error, so why aren't quarterbacks compensated statistically when receivers drop potentially easy receptions? Why not give errors to receivers and adjust the passing percentages of QB's just as are the earned run averages of baseball pitchers?

One of the best rulings the California Boxing Commission has been able to pass through legislature in recent years is the new law which now allows 17 years olds to box professionally in this state.

To make youngsters who want to box wait until age 18 — as in the past — is foolish, according to every boxing expert with whom we've ever discussed the matter. The original intent of the law was to protect the immature youngster, but a year doesn't make that much difference in a boy's physical maturity; it could be better used in teaching the youngster the fundamentals of boxing and, more important, how to protect himself.

If a boy is going to box, he should begin his training as an early teen-ager at latest. The better he knows his business and how to protect himself, the safer he is. As in all sports, conditioning and experience are the best protectors.

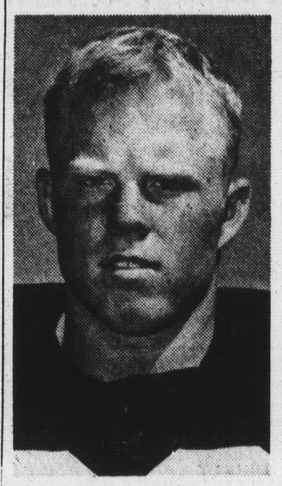
Namanny Named Among '11 Best'

College of San Mateo fullback Al Namanny has been named one of the state's best 11 junior college footbal players.

The Bulldog sohpomore from Daly City was honored on the top squad of the first all-state Junior College grid team, released today by the Junior College Athletic Bureau.

The all-state team is the California equivalent of the National Junior College Athletic Association All-America team. There are more junior colleges playing football in California (77) than in the entire NJCAA (which no longer includes California teams).



Al Namanny

Namanny, a 6-1, 200-pounder, was a unanimous choice as outstanding player in the Golden Gate Conference, bettering career rushing and scoring standards first established by NFL record breaker Travis Williams while at Contra Costa College (but later bettered by O. J. Simpson at City College of San Francisco.)

Namanny gained 896 yards and scored 92 points this year. In 18 games over two seasons, he gained 1713 yards. An all-county linebacker as a prep, Namanny's blocking also allowed his running mate, Marty Kreidt from Mills to gain over 500 yards in each of their two seasons at CSM.

CSM head coach Cliff Giffin praised Namanny as "my best back in my ten years here." That includes such ex-San Mateo stars as Clarence Hamel, Walt Harris, and JC All-America quarterback Rick Norman.

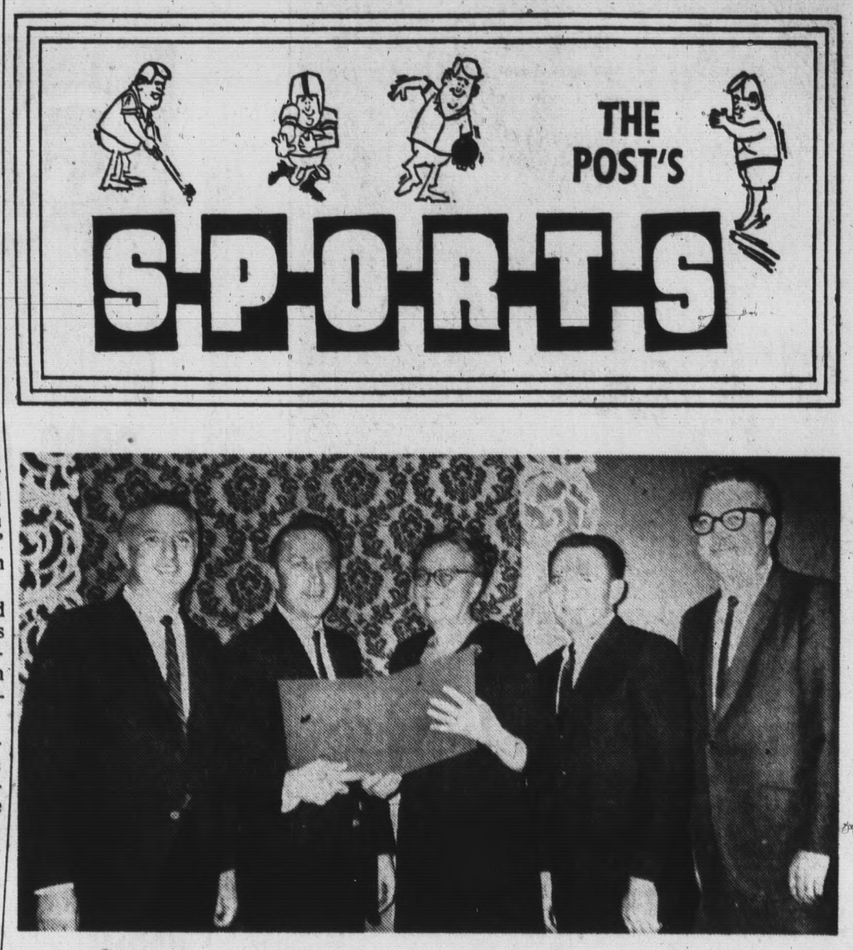
Giffin noted that, although Namanny came to CSM from Jefferson High as a defensive star, the Bulldog staff noticed he was a "daylight runner" and immediately put him to work in the offensive backfield with the more heralded Kreidt.

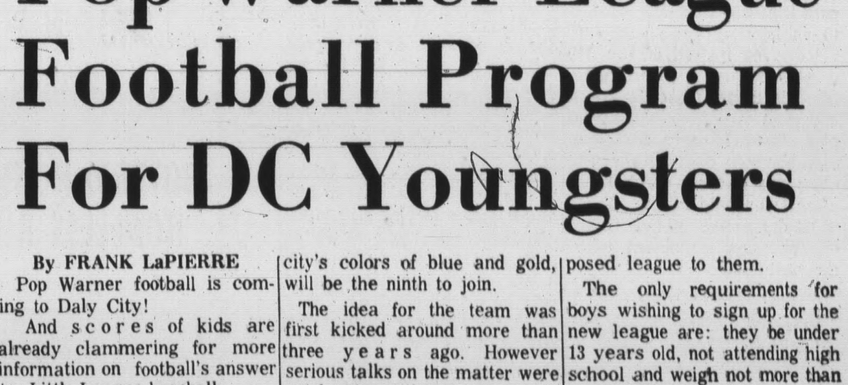
Matean backfield coach Stu Carter labels Namanny "one of the best blockers I've ever had in 20 years of coaching. He can go anywhere in the country." (He's currently undecided on his transfer plans.)

Namanny has been ranked among the state's top rushers throughout his JC career, although he saw little action in the final two games of 1966 because of a broken hand.

He easily won the GGC rushing and scoring titles in 1967. In fact, he practically won the conference scoring title in the league opener against San Jose CC when he broke O. J. Simpson's record of 18 points in one quarter with 20 points during the decisive fourth quarter.

Although Namanny was keyed on repeatedly the past season, he did not have a bad game. He gained good ground up the middle on every opponent, playing against tough large college linemen in every contest.





BASEBALL WEEK, which runs through January 28, was proclaimed by Pacifica Mayor Mrs. Grace McCarthy, who is shown after she signed the proclamation with leaders of youth baseball activities in the coastal community. Pop Warner League Football Program For DC Youngsters

Pop Warner football is coming to Daly City!

And scores of kids are already clammering for more information on football's answer to Little League baseball.

Sign-up date for the new league (which is still in search of a proper name) will be around the end of July.

But the league, aimed at promoting the sport among boys in the 13-year-old-or-under bracket, may run into financial snags unless local residents "lend a helping hand."

The three-man Steering Committee for the league — Frank Macchia, Daly City mayor Bernard Lycett and Dr. Tom Lewis —have issued an appeal for financial assistance to get the league ball rolling.

Pop Warner football leagues cannot be sponsored using government (city) funds. All donations must come from the public.

Jim Bird, head coach of the local league, and his assistant, Ron Smith (both volunteers), point out it takes some $100 to properly outfit a player "with first class protective gear — and we won't settle for less."

Although rules stipulate up to 45 boys can sign up for the league, finances will dictate how many can play this first year.

"We can only be as successful as the backers we get," Smith said.

First year costs for the team are estimated at $4,000, with this figure dropping to about $2,000 in subsequent years. This cost would include replacement of equipment and acquisition of new gear.

There are eight teams presently sanctioned by Pop Warner in the Mid-Peninsula League.

Daly City's team, sporting the city's colors of blue and gold, will be the ninth to join.

The idea for the team was first kicked around more than three years ago. However serious talks on the matter were not begun until last year.

Both Bird and Smith received encouraging support from both recreational and city officials when they mentioned the proposed league to them.

The only requirements for boys wishing to sign up for the new league are: they be under 13 years old, not attending high school and weigh not more than 118 pounds.

Further information can be obtained by calling either Mrs. James Bird (756-7080) or Mrs. Ronald Smith (992-8514).

BOWLING ACTIVITY

ROSE-COLORED APPLE halves, flavored with almond extract, make an interesting and delicious accompaniment to roast pork.

Time for a Change In That Applesauce

If you, like most other cooks, usually serve applesauce with roast pork, it's time to bring a change.

Glorify those apples — especially if they're for a company meal. Pare and halve them and cook them in a rose-colored syrup, then add a little almond extract. You'll have apples that are lovely to look at and delicious to taste.

Now about the roast pork. Competent research, done recently, has shown that fresh pork loins can be safely cooked to an internal temperature of 170 degrees instead of the 185 degrees formerly recommended; this means that the pork loin meat may have a tinge of pink. The 170-degre temperature, however, does not apply to other cuts of fresh pork; these other cuts should still be cooked to 185 degrees or until all tinges of pink color are absent when the meat is cut.

ROSE ALMOND APPLES

4 medium or large yellow Delicious or Winesap apples
2 cups sugar
1 cup water
¼ teaspoon salt
12 drops red food coloring
1 teaspoon almond extract

Pare apples; core; cut each in half lengthwise.

Into a 10-inch skillet turn the sugar, water and salt; over low heat stir until sugar is dissolved; bring to a full boil. Reduce heat and stir in the red food coloring. Add apples; cook very gently, turning with a fork several times, until apples are tender but still hold their shape — about 10 minutes.

With a slotted spoon, place the apples in a single layer in a wide shallow cassarole or similar container.

Bring the syrup remaining in the skillet to a full boil; boil for 10 minutes; remove from heat. Stir in almond extract; pour syrup over apples. Let the apples stand in the syrup for several hours, turning them occasionally. Serve at once or cover and chill for later serivce.

To serv: turn the aple halves with a little of their syrup into an attractive serving dish to accompany roast pork; or if the pork platter is large, the apple halves — drained of syrup — may be placed alternately with parsley sprigs or watercress around the pork. Remaining syrup from the apples may be used as a glaze for baked ham or boneless smoked pork shoulder butt.

Rose Almond Apples make 8 servings as a pork accompaniment.

CORNMEAL STICKS to serve with soup. They're good, too, with salad.

Professional Look For Dedicated Cook

If there's anything that pleases a dedicated cook it's turning out something that looks professional.

Why? Because you have the lovely feeling that you've entered a contest and won. In spite of the handicap—after all you're not in the commercial ranks—you've licked the challenge. You're on top of the heap.

Last but not least, there's the admiring audience—your family and friends—that your handiwork achieves. What's more gratifying than taking a well-deserved bow?

So go to it you true-blue cooks.

Try you hand at making cornmeal sticks. If you follow directions, they'll look as neat and handsome as the bread sticks found on foodshop counters and served in restaurants.

Want to play this cooking game? Here's the recipe:

CORNMEAL STICKS

1¼ cups sifted regular flour
1 teaspoon salt
¾ cup enriched yellow or white cornmeal
1-3 cup solid white shortening
¼ cup process American cheese spread, sharp variety
7 tablespoons ice water
extra salt

In a medium mixing bowl sift together the flour, salt and cornmeal. With a pastry blender cut in the shortening and cheese spread until the mixture resembles coarse crumbs.

Add water; stir lightly only until mixture is dampened. If necessary, add a little more water to make dough hold together.

Turn out on a prepared pastry cloth; knead gently for a few seconds. Divide dough in half.

Roll out each half to form a 15 by 12 inch rectangle. Cut dough to form six 15 by 2 inch strips. Starting with the 15-inch side, roll each strip to form a long stick. Cut each stick into three 5-inch sticks.

Brush with milk. Sprinkle with extra salt.

Bake, placed slightly apart, on ungreased cookie sheets in a 425-degree oven until golden-brown—10 to 15 minutes. Remove at once.

Makes 3 dozen.

Note: For very long sticks, cut into 7½ inch lengths instead of 5 inch lengths.

WHEN MAN COOKS he may try this simple but hearty steak, served colorfully while sizzling and bright with flame.

Man in the Kitchen Tries Flaming Steak

When the man takes over in the kitchen or the outdoor grill, he likes to prepare a steak in a new and interesting manner. One may suggest that he add bourbon, to enhance the flavor. Then, as accompaniment, a pitcher of Manhattans.

STEAK FLAMBEES
1 sirloin steak
1 cup bourbon
¼ cup lime juice
2 tblsp. brown sugar
3 tblsp. melted butter
Salt
Pepper
¼ cup kirsch
Quilted broiling foil

Place steak in shallow pan or dish. Combine Bourbon, lime juice and brown sugar. Pour over steak, cover and marinate for 1 hour. Line firebox with broiling foil and prepare fire.

When coals are covered with gray ashes, place steak on greased rack. Add melted butter to remaining marinade; baste steak generously and continue to baste frequently during the grilling.

When steak is well browned on the underside, turn and season with satl and pepper. At the desired degree of doneness, place steak on heated platter; pour kirsh over and ignite for serving.

MANHATTAN PITCHER
1 quart bourbon
¾ cup sweet vermouth (6 oz.)
¾ cup dry vermouth (6 oz.)

Combine liquids, pour over large chunk of ice and stir. Put maraschino cherry in each glass. Makes about 22 cocktails.

Curry Gives Novel Accent To Pot Roast

Curry, that interesting blend of so many different spices, can give a novel accent to your next pot-roast. Serve it with rice, to keep it in harmony with the seasoning; add relishes of chutney, preserved kumquats and salted peanuts to the menu and you might even have the neighbors in!

Beef pot-roast often cooks with vegetables. This one is no exception since celery, onions and green beans keep the meat company during its slow cooking time.

Select a beef blade or arm cut from plentiful supplies. Both come from the shoulder or chuck section, the blade type with a long, slender bone in the shape of the figure, seven, and the arm cut with a round o-shaped bone.

Curriet Pot-Roast
3 to 4 pound arm or blade pot-roast
2 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon curry powder
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
½ cup water
2 stalks celery, cut in 1-inch pieces
12 small onions
1 package (9 ounces) frozen cut green beans
¼ cup flour

Mix 2 tablespoons flour, salt, pepper and curry powder. Dredge pot-roast with seasoned flour and brown in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add water. Cover tightly and simmer 2½ hours. Add celery, onions and green beans. Cover and continue cooking until meat is tender and vegetables are done, about 45 minutes. Remove meat and vegetables. Measure cooking liquid and add enough water to make 2 cups. Thicken liquid with ¼ cup flour for gravy. 6 to 8 servings.

Sesame Seeds A New Flavor

Give pie pastry new flavor. When you are making up the dough for a 9-inch pie, you can add about ¼ cup of sesame seeds.

Cyprus Is Topic For UN Group

Problems involved in the Greece-Turkey-Cyprus eruptions will be discussed at a public meeting of the San Mateo County Chapter of the United Nations Association scheduled for Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the Pilgrim Plaza, 120 North San Mateo Drive, San Mateo.

Denis J. Norrington, of the School of International Relations at San Francisco State College, will present background information on the situation and the UN's role in the various crises on the Isle of Cyprus. This will be his second appearance before a public meeting o fthe association, according to Eric Gattmann, president.

"We are offering this series of discussions with informed leaders to help us better understand both the UN and the crises it is called upon to handle. We have a tendency to dismiss the UN as an ineffectual instrument for peacekeeping without knowledge of the basic problems involved or the financial and charter limitations imposed on its actions."

Gattmann also called attention to the continuing services of the association through its permanent office in the Wisnom Building at 231 Second Avenue, San Mateo. Pamphlets, books, newspaper clippings, and bibliographies are available for the use of those wishing information on the UN or its Specialized Agencies and Special Funds. Regular office hours, from Monday through Friday are 1:30 to 4:30, with arrangements by telephone for other times.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD ★ JOHNSON

Special Sunday Dinner For All Grandmothers

EMERSON MURFEE, energetic owner of the Villa Chartier, Lanai and Lanai Luquor Store, will come up with another restaurant special. In the near future (starting date to be announced in Bright Lights), complimentary Sunday Dinner will be served to all grandmothers accompanied by their children and grandchildren, with the exception of Easter Sunday and Mother's Day. This offer will be good at both the Villa Chartier and Lanai restaurants . . . For a different kind of dessert, try Zabaione (Italian Wine Custard) at Vince's Sea Food and Italian restaurant . . . A diet plate which still satisfies the appetite is the "Dieter's Delight" at Oliver's in South City. Tomato juice, ground Sirloin Steak, cottage cheese and tomatoes makes for hearty, but calorie-conscious, eating.

PHIL LEHR noticed a group of seven men who dined every night for a week at his Steakery in downtown San Francisco and curiously asked from where they hailed. Phil was agreeably happy when they told him from Chicago for a convention. The reason they dined seven nights in a row at Lehr's Steakery was — "His steaks topped anything in Chicago." The beef capital, yet! . . . Actor Henry Silva and a party of Los Angeles film producers were recent diners at Bertolucci's, South San Francisco. In the Bay Area filming for a new movie, they told owner Larry Bertolucci that his Italian cuisine is the best they had found in San Francisco. Much praise was also given Mama Bertolucci's extraordinary Cannelloni. . . . One of the gourmet dishes served at Doros in San Francisco — and a big favorite — is their Chicken Saute Risotto Milanese. It's an exclusive dish at Doros because it's a recipe of owner Don Dianda.

LAVERNE CUMMINGS, a glamorous blonde chanteuse with an elaborate wardrobe, is a real show-stopper at Finocchio's house of female impersonations. Having attracted Hollywood scouts with his performances in the past, this may be the year of his discovery. You could hear a pin drop when Cummings sings in each of the four shows nightly . . . Parking is no major problem at the Sea Wolf restaurant, located in Oakland's historic Jack London Square at the end of Broadway. Directly on the waterfront, many of manager Ted Ince's regular patrons arrive by small boats from the surrounding areas and dock almost at the restaurant's entrance . . . The versatile guitar of Brazil's Bola Sete returned to the Los Gatos Old Town Theater, last Tuesday, for a two-week engagement through January 28.

ROMANO'S ITALIAN restaurant and pizza house is considered a "food landmark" on the Pacifica coastside. The name Romano is painted on the restaurant's door only 12 times, but owner Enrico Romano and his mother have been serving their fine old-country dishes for more years than the number implies . . . On Sunday nights, chef Tony's dinner special in the Royal Hall of Fred and Jerry Rapp's Holiday Inn, South San Francisco, is Chicken Cacciatore served with steamed rice and vegetables. Maitre d' Hadi Parangi says the dinner, remarkably priced at $2.95, also includes soup, salad and choice of beverage. When renowned violinist Isaac Stern appears in concert at Hayward and San Jose in February, he will honor the Villa Hotel with his presence as a guest. The new San Mateo-Hayward Bridge will provide an easy commute for him — but commute he will, for the pleasure of enjoying the lovely Villa Hotel. The list of famous people staying here while appearing in the Bay Area continues to grow.

GEORGE McCAMAN, manager of The Shadows on Second Avenue, estimates that the renowned San Mateo restaurant prepares approximately 150 gallons of soup each week for take-out service. Sold by the quart and half-gallon, the soup containers are purchased in 5000 lots . . . Dapper Willie Yee Foon, immaculate bus boy at Bruno's in San Francisco, is really tops when it comes to fracturing the King's English. Willie, who has been with Bruno's for 25 years, keeps the customers in stitches with his mixture of Chinese, Italian and a dash of Anglo-Saxon here and there . . . Chef Bill Marsh and his outstanding Continental food creations are two of the main reasons why the plush Blue Peacock restaurant in Millbrae's King's Bowl is off to a banner year. Lou Dapelo's adjacent bar operation is a favorite "commute stop" on the Peninsula. . . .

Trio Bel Canto Now Appearing At Alexi's Zorba

Recording artists Trio Bel Canto opened their month-long engagement in Alex's Zobra Supper Club Friday, and first nighters enjoyed a rare musical treat. Proud owners of 10 Gold Records, the unique Mediterranean song stylings of Trio Bel Canto have brought them worldwide acclaim.

When asked who's next on the entertainment agenda, the Burlingame supper club owner, Mike Kourkoutakis, only smiles.

Athens Royale Grand Opening Huge Success

Sara Fischer opened the doors of her magnificent Redwood City Athens Royale Grecian supper club last Wednesday for the grand opening celebration, and before the evening was half over many Peninsulans were converted to the Greek way of life.

From the Grecian food specialties on the menu to the lively dancing of Ricco, Valya and Company, and the masterful Bouzouki sounds of world renowned John "Sporos" Stamatis and his orchestra, the entire evening was a "night in Athens" success.

Besides being expert "cow punchers," wranglers down at the Black Angus Chuck Wagon must also be expert fishermen. Along with the hearty, Western-style entrees offered on the "All you can eat" spread, the trail bosses feature a fish or seafood entree daily.

☆

Lew Lehr's Steak House in San Francisco's Marina is becoming headquarters for many of the local Consular Corps entertaining dinner parties. Lew had five Consul Generals hosting important visitors from their native countries last week.

Doug Young, manager of the International Inn restaurant complex, South San Francisco, was missing from the scene for a few days, this past week. During Doug's absence (he was a victim of the ubiquitous flu bug), the International Inn restaurant staff carried on in the best tradition.

ARTHUR GALLMEYER, in charge of Purchasing and Food Production, was elected a vice president of Foster Lunch System, Ltd. at the annual meeting held, recently. A director since 1962, Mr. Gallmeyer has been employed with Foster's since 1930.

New Menu For Fork 'n' Cork

Last week, Vic and Julie Proul introduced a complete new dinner menu to the patrons of their Fork 'n' Cork restaurant. Chef Floyd Hughie's entrees now include Prime Rib, Filet Mignon, New York Steak, thick Top Sirloin and Lobster Tail, all served with baked potato and salad. Special children's dinners are also available.

The San Jose Adriatic Now Open

The Adriatic, a magnificent, new $350,000 supper club with showroom seating 500 people and rivaling the famed theater restaurants of San Francisco and Nevada, has opened on Winchester Road in West San Jose. Featuring big-name entertainment, The Adriatic premieres with Rusty Draper, who opened a 10-day appearance last Friday. Draper will present two shows nightly, except Monday, at 9 p.m. and 11:30 p.m.; three shows on Fridays and Saturdays, 9 p.m., 11 p.m. and 1 a.m. The 4-D's entertain with music for dancing nightly.

☆

The food was so tempting, three prime examples of fine living and glowing health "indulged" just a bit, last weekend. Ronnie Dean, former Mr. California (he's running again this year); Mat Reddan, Mr. San Francisco, and Tim Mahony, Mr. America of 1967, were the center of attention as they gathered Sunday night for some "serious" eating at Yolanda's Terminal Cafe, South San Francisco.

Longley's For Private Banquets

"Banquet space unlimited" is the proud boast of Longley's in San Francisco. Manager Cecil Carrigg invites you to inspect Longley's facilities before making future banquet arrangements. Private parties and sales meetings are a specialty here, as is the food and service. During the recent holidays, there were nine portable bar set-ups, with nine bartenders serving, for one party alone. Make Longley's a must on your next evening in the City.

"All Nite Flite" Lands At The Fireside Lounge

After a steady succession of several of show biz' top acts, the Fireside Lounge owners, Jack McRae and Phil Maita, have done it again by signing one o' the hottest recording groups on the West Coast — the All Nite Flite, featuring Captain S & W. The S & W, by the way, stands for 'Something Wonderful'' — and after hearing the group, you'll agree they were appropriately named.

Although the Dixieland group has been cancelled, Phil says the shapely Topless Dixie Belles will still be "ringing" nightly.

The Fireside's Saturday and Sunday morning after-hour shows are drawing big crowds of Peninsula night owls every weekend. While name recording groups take over the bandstand, the swingin' set makes the scene for the sounds, sandwiches and coffee sipping, with many staying over until the 6 a.m. closing time.

Although specializing in authentic Mexican cuisine, chef Robert Perez of the El Patio Mexican restaurant in Menlo Park lists various American dishes on both luncheon and dinner menus. Owner Jim Llewellyn reminds you of their take-out service. Call in your order, pick it up a short time later.

☆

Louie Gundunas and his Grecian musical and dance troup from the Balkan Village have been invited to appear in the big benefit at the Circle Star Theater, sponsored by the San Francisco Children's Hospital, to be held February 19. Gus Gundunas, brother of Louie, will also dance in the Greek portion of the show, which will feature a galaxy of Hollywood performers.

Fresh, Juicy Pear Is a Perfect Choice, But Turnovers Surprise in Lunch Box

Fresh fruit always has been the dessert mainstay of the lunch box — and it still is.

One of the best choices here is the fresh and juicy pear. But when you want to surprise the lunch-box carrier, maybe we can beguile you into baking Pear Turnovers to be included. Make a batch of the turnovers for the whole family and serve them piping-hot for dinner, but save one to pack into a lunch box for the next day.

Recipes come and go, but in our opinion the recipe for Pear Turnovers should go on forever. These flaky triangles of pastry with their delectable pear filling really are worth eating.

Yes, the pastry will be flaky if you follow this recipe. In some circles this particular formula — which calls for the addition of an egg and vinegar plus the usual ingredients — is called Foolproof Pastry. We think it deserves the name.

Please follow our caution about having the pastry rolled out and cut before you peel the pears, dice, sweeten and spice them. If you don't do this, the mixture may be too juicy.

And another caution. Bake these pear turnovers thoroughly. For best eating, the pastry should be golden-brown and crisp.

Two varieties of pears — Anjou and Bosc — to choose from for winter turnovers. A third variety, the fragrant Comice is with us, too. But the Comice is chiefly used "as is" because of its delicate flavor and texture.

PEAR TURNOVERS

2 cups unsifted regular flour
1 teaspoon salt
2-3 cup solid white shortening
1 large egg
1 teaspoon cider vinegar
3 tablespoons ice water
Fresh Pear Filling (see recipe)
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

In a medium mixing bowl stir together the flour and salt. With a pastry blender, cut in the shortening until particles are fine.

In a small bowl beat together just enough to blend, the egg, vinegar and water, with a fork, stir into flour mixture. Turn out on transparent plastic wrap and form into a ball; wrap tightly and chill.

On a prepared pastry cloth, roll out chilled dough to an exact square—13½ by 13½ inches. Using a pastry wheel or a sharp knife, cut into nine 4½-inch squares.

Now, and only now, prepare the Fresh Pear Filling. At once, without letting the Filling stand, spoon it over half of each pastry square; dot with butter. Moisten edges of pastry squares with water; fold over and seal by pressing edges with the tines of a fork. Cut several slits in the top of each turnover.

Place turnovers, a few inches apart, on a cookie sheet. Bake in a 425-degree oven until golden-brown — about 25 to 30 minutes. With a wide spatula remove at once from cookie sheet because a little juice may have leaked out.

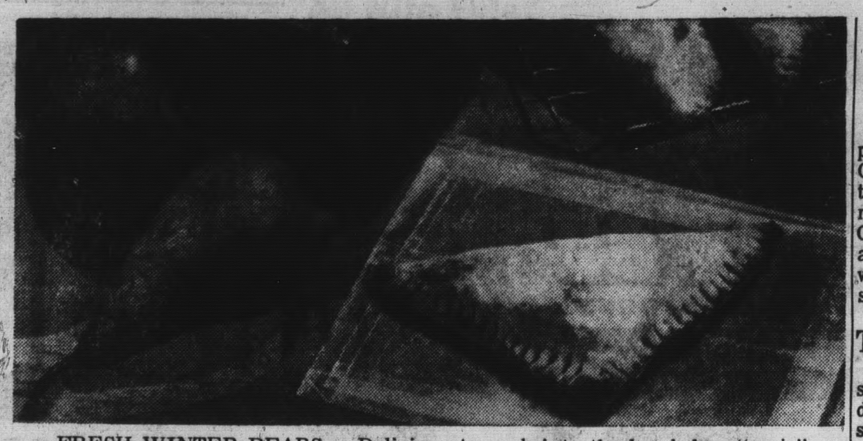
Delicious served hot or warm, although some eaters like the turnovers cold.

Makes 9 servings.

FRESH PEAR FILLING

3 firm medium winter pears, about 1¼ pounds
1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ cup usgar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg

Remove stems from pears; peel and halve; with a small sharp knife remove seeds and stem structure; dice into about ½-inch pieces; turn into a medium bowl. Sprinkle with lemon juice and gently mix. Sprinkle with sugar, salt and nutmeg; gently but quickly mix. Use at once (to keep mixture from standing and becoming juicy) as directed in Pear Turnover recipe.



FRESH WINTER PEARS — Delicious to pack into the lunch box "as is" or to make into Pear Turnovers for the take-along noon meal.

Interesting Ground Beef

Ground beef will have a big place on menus before the Christmas feast. To keep it interesting, shape the ground meat into wreaths, bells or Christmas trees for a festive air. Before serving, sprinkle with paprika or chopped parsley.

Topping Tip

Different topping: Orange sections and ripe olives make a delightful garnish for a chicken salad made with chicken, celery and mayonnaise or French dressing.

This Cold Weather Item Is Tasty One

Nothing is more delightful, in the course of a wintry afternoon, than the treat of a warm custard cup full of sweet pudding, with all the goodness and flavor of walnuts and chocolate and hearty diced dates.

Chocolate date nut pudding is the kind of a special treat that gives the term "home cooking" real meaning in this day of convenience cookery and instant foods.

To make six individual servings of this delicacy, you'll need:

2 cups soft bread crumbs
1½ cups milk, scalded
¾ cup granulated sugar
2 egg yolks, beaten
2 envelopes no-melt unsweetened chocolate
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
¼ cup orange juice
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup diced dates
2 egg whites

Stir bread crumbs into hot milk.

Combine sugar, egg yolks, chocolate, orange peel, juice and salt; then blend into milk mixture. Add dates and nuts.

Beat egg whites stiff and fold into egg mixture.

Turn the entire mixture into six greased 6-0z. custard cups. Place the cups in a shallow pan and pour 1 inch of hot water around the cups in the pan.

Bake at 350 degrees F. for 35 minutes, or until knife inserted in center of pudding comes out clean. Serve warm.

Potato Tool Breaks It Up

Ground meat sometimes seems quite solid when you're mixing or browning it. Use a potato masher for breaking it up into smaller pieces.

BACON SCRAPPLE — Great for a weekend brunch.

Scrapple Gives Cooks Ideas

Old-time scrapple gives cooks ideas. Nowadays we're not likely to take the time and trouble to make scrapple in its origianal form because it's available in food markets — and very good, too. But inventive modern cooks are likely to make easy versions of scrapple.

The followign recipe does just that. Crisply cooked bacon is added to cooked cornmeal, then the mixture is chilled, sliced and panfried. A delicious addition to Saturday or Sunday brunch.

What to serve with the Bacon Scrapple? Maple syrup is the traditional sweet accompaniment. But sliced apples poached in a spicy syrup are good, too. And some fans of Bacon Scrapple like it with soft-fried eggs and red currant jelly. Take your choice.

Bacon Scraple is perfect for brunch because i tmust be fried slowly and for a long time to achieve a crispy exterior. Late brunch on a leisurely weekend day gives a cook plenty of time to accomplish this.

BACON SCRAPPLE

12 slices bacon
1 cup enriched yellow cornmeal
1 teaspoon salt
Water

In a large skillet over low heat fry the bacon (about one-half at a time) turning to crisp on both sides. Remove bacon to brown paper to drain; crumble into very small pieces.

In a mixing bowl, stir together the cornmeal, salt and 1 cup cold water. In a medium saucepan bring 3 cups cold water to a boil; off heat gradually pour in the cornmeal mixture, stirring constantly to keep smooth.

Cook over moderately low heat, stirring often until thickened and boiling. Cover and continue cooking over low heat for 10 to 15 minutes. Stir in bacon.

Rinse a glass loaf pan (½ by 4½ by 2½ inches) with cold water; pour in mush; cool at room temperature for about half an hour.

Cover top of pan with plastic wrap or use wax paper and secure with an elastic band.

Refrigerate for several hours (so mush will set) or chill overnight.

Turn out on a cutting board. Cut in 12 crosswise slices. In a large cast-iron skillet in a small amount of butter or bacon drippings, slowly pan-fry the mush slices until crusty and lightly browned on both sides, turning only once.

Serve with maple syrup. Makes 6 hearty servings.

Lamb Riblets, Green Beans A Thrift Note

Little known but wonderfully tasty are lamb riblets. They can also be used as an accent on thrift in the midst of holiday spending.

Riblets are made from the lamb breast after removing the breast bone and by cutting between the ribs to give serving-size portions. They may be cooked in water or braised.

In this recipe they're cooked in water. Onions, carrots and green beans go right in with the riblets to give the main course with vegetables. Serve with rice or noodles.

LAMB RIBLETS AND GREEN BEANS

3 pounds lamb riblets
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
Salt
Pepper
Water to cover
6 small onions
6 medium carrots
2 pounds fresh or 1 can (16 ounces) cut green beans
¼ cup vinegar

Brown lamb riblets slowly in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season. Cover with water. Cover tightly and simmer 30 minutes. Add onions, carrots and green beans. Continue cooking 45 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Add vinegar 10 minutes before end of cooking time. (If canned beans are used, add them when vinegar is added, allowing only enough time for the beans to become heated through). 6 servings.

Cupcakes For Cake That's Not So Sweet

If sweets become too much of a good thing during the holidays, then select a simple, non-frosted cupcake as a dessert or snack.

Apple Cupcakes are fruited with dates as well as apples. They're delightfully spicy and textured with pecans. Make them tender by using lard as the shortening.

These little cakes will keep nicely moist because of the fruit in them. After cooling, store them in a round tin such as is used for fruit cakes.

APPLE CUPCAKES

2 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
2 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon ground cloves
½ teaspoon allspice
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup lard
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg
½ cup cold coffee
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup chopped pecans
½ cup chopped dates
1 cup pared and chopped tart aples

Grease 24 medium muffin ans. Sift flour, soda, baking powder, cinnamon, ground cloves, allspice and nutmeg. Cream lard, sugar and salt until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Combine coffee and vanilla. Mix dry ingredients with nuts, dates and apples. Fold in dry ingredients alternately with liquid. Fill muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes or until lightly browned. Yield: 24 medium cupcakes.

KEEP EGGNOG COLD

Dairy eggnog from milkman or dairy section at the supermarket must be kept cold and covered for protection; served very cold for greatest pleasure. Same thing is true, of course, of homemade eggnog.

Cities Studying New Formula on Cigarette Tax

By JOHN CURRY

League of California Cities has come up with a new compromise distribution formula for doling out the new state cigarette tax to the cities and counties of California, not without growls and groans from some quarters.

The new law, effective Oct. 1, 1967, imposed a seven-cent-a-pack cigarette tax by the state, with three cents to be distributed to the cities and counties on a basis of taxable sales.

But the LCC, after some study and at the behest of a good number of cities with low taxable sales and those who now are receiving less than they did with their own cigarette taxes before the state law superseded them, pondered and came up with the compromise.

What this means to San Mateo County's 18 cities and towns is that 11 of them would gain money and seven would lose, some in large amounts.

In Atherton, for instance, a year's estimated revenue from the tax originally was $1,500. The new formula would produce an estimated $19,211, or a gain of $17,711.

Gainers mostly are the "bedroom" or residential communities with fewer taxable sales, while the losers are mainly the industrial and commercial cities, with higher proportions per capita of sales.

Main opposition to the new LCC formula has come from the city of Commerce in Southern California, which stands to lose $440,168 under the new formula. Commerce has charged the LCC shouldn't get involved in legislative matters like this.

No San Mateo County city would lose anything near that, however, and the losing cities largely have accepted it philosophically. The gainers, of course, have been quietly thankful, since to many it'll mean the same as several cents on the local property tax rate.

The breakdown on the cities and potential revenue changes:

Belmont—$35,250 to $68,083, a $32,833 gain;

Brisbane—$26,250 to $22,970, a $3,280 loss;

Burlingame—$230,250 to $174,597, a $55,653 loss;

Colma—$10,500 to $6,480, a $4,020 loss;

Daly City—$160,500 to $213,160, a $52,660 gain;

Half Moon Bay—$8,250 to $11,099, a $2,849 gain;

Hillsborough—$1,500 to $19,621, a $18,121 gain;

Menlo Park—$123,000 to $127,132, a $4,132 gain;

Millbrae—$63,750 to $78,228, a $14,538 gain;

Pacifica—$36,750 to $92,627, a $55,877 gain;

Portola Valley—$2,250 to $13,022, a $10,772 gain;

Redwood City—$260,250 to $258,106, a $2,144 loss;

San Bruno—$88,500 to $125,883, a $37,383 gain;

San Carlos—$132,000 to $122,607, a $9,393 loss;

San Mateo—$369,750 to $357,566, a $12,184 loss;

South San Francisco—$342,750 to $273,917, a $68,833 loss;

Woodside—$6,000 to $12,846, a $6,846 gain.

San Mateo County itself would receive the same $330,000 under both formulas because the LCC recommendation effects only the method of distribution to cities and not the city-county split.

Total allocations to the county and all cities was pegged at $2,229,000 under the old formula and would go up to $2,327,155, a gain of $98,155.

Surfing 'Exhilarating'

It's possible that those young folks who surf down in Pacifica aren't really "nuts," after all.

At least our once-firm mind is not so set in that opinion after chatting with one of them at the Cow Palace recently.

Not that he fully convinced us, mind you; though we might admit that maybe it's just us—being cowards and all that!

Proof one way or the other you aren't going to get, because no one will ever catch us down at Pedro beach (surf) or any other surfing haven!

But, for us, it'll continue to be a matter of letting the younger set "relate to the waves," as the 17-year old put it.

Incidentally, the lad (and his year-younger brother) had hair a little longish . . . yet it was clean and combed and its wearer's manner was such that it was not held against him. It helped erase our own bad impressions of others who might look like them.

A postage stamp for Pacifica?

Well, not "for" it—but the U.S. Post Office will issue a stamp commemorating the 200th anniversary since the founding of California.

In 1706, reminds Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan who introduced an Assembly Joint Resolution requesting the stamp, and Mrs. Grace McCarthy, the Pacifica mayor, San Francisco and Northern California were discovered in Pacifica by the Gaspar de Portola expedition.

The original idea of putting Pacifica on a stamp came from Mayor Grace McCarthy with the unanimous approval by the city council, Ryan explained.

The 'C'-Plus Student

In his Saturday Evening Post article entitled "Needed: A University for the C-plus Student," Harold Fitzgerald says, "Modern education has lost its belief in the average boy and girl. They're my heroes — and yours."

"C-plus people," he says, "handle nine-tenths of the worldly burdens of the tough administrative and creative jobs and bear nine-tenth of the worldly burdens of the affluent and pompous, and the contrasting problems of the weak and the inept. The world's in their collective laps."

"THEY'RE the backbone of the nation. They fight our wars, carry us to greater peacetime glory and assure our religious, economic and educational future. They are the stars of tomorrow."

"In an aritcle filled with sarcasim and truth he proposes a university that will admit C-plus students.

The character of the university will be most interesting.

Old C plus U will exalt good, fine, average ability that can work wonders — and does. We want live, assertive, wiggly young profs who barely made it, but who can sit down and reason with a misguided 19-year-old agitator or a 'gone gone' leftist — and report headway."

"THEY TELL ME Henry Ford had to stay up nights to get a C-plus average, and so did Thomas Edison. And yet, they did tolerably well, those two."

"If the Gideons don't put a Bible in every room, the University will. There'll be full-fledged courses in handling affairs in the House and Senate and even in the big, white edifice located at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue.

"Old-fashioned common sense is needed so desperately in so many places. The far, far out and the completely 'gone' generations have euchred us into too many untenable positions. C plus U will specifically train men to fill the position of Chief Justice satisfactorily and in accordance with the precepts of our honored ancestors."

"Lawyers will be taught to write wills and agreements in language that even they can understand themselves. Our law school will teach judges to send criminals to prison instead of suspending sentences with sharp admonitions of: 'Now, you be good'."

"C-plus-U doctors will make house calls to keep distraught mothers from sitting hours and hours in those well-named 'waiting rooms,' with sick babies in their arms."

"Engineers from C-plus-U will make certain that water faucets turn one way instead of up, down, left, right, inside, outside, pressed together and pulled apart."

'Wait 'n See' Attitude

LET'S GO BACK a few months and examine a Jefferson Elementary School Board public meeting where several persons (some members of the CTA) informed the Board of trustees they were "unhappy" over the proposed establishment of a new position — that of Public Information Officer for the district.

The only reason we mention this particular incident at this time is because of certain statements made last week by school superintendent Frank Greenwood "pooh poohing" the picketing of the District Administration building by members of the American Federation of Teachers (AFT).

According to the superintendent, the pickets represented only a small handful of teachers from the district. This was obviously meant to indicate they carried little power. They were there to protest several things, among them: the recent trip to Miami Beach by some trustees to attend a convention; the proposed PIO position; and conduct of the Board in general.

Although there have been considerable questions asked concerning the PIO position, most teachers and residents have take a cool "wait and see" attitude.

If, as the job outline proclaims, "this is a single position classification established for the purpose of centralizing and coordinating the development and distribution of information to interested organizations, groups and persons concerning the activities and programs of district government," then it would be wise to wait and see.

On the other hand, if what the AFT charges is true; that is, the PIO will spend his time "building up the image" of the Board and not school news in general, then they get the Flat Of Our Sword. At any rate it's too early to tell. The position is on a one year trial basis and could be abolished at the end of that time.

QUOTABLE LINE appeared in "The Friday Paper," a new daily published by Ramparts and being distributed on a limited scale in San Francisco. A. J. Liebling states: "What good is freedom of the press if there isn't one?"

AND WHILE WE'RE on the subject of newspapers, there's a (sick) joke circulating about the frustrated San Frnacisco housewife who complained "Since the newspaper strike I have to take my garbage out in the radio."

THOUGHT I SPOTTED several Oakland Raider supporters form the North County standing in a soup line the other a.m. following their return from Miami. (Et Tu Bruno).

OUR OFFICE HAS THE DUBIOUS honor of having two frustrated cinema critics — secretary Bev Tuohy and reporter Don Greirson. After listening (for several weeks) about the greatness of a French-made production simply titled "A Man and a Woman" we made an outstanding effort to see it over the past weekend. Our opinion It's the longest Mustang (Ford) commercial in the history, with cameo appearances by Ferrari and Volvo!

HATS OFF DEPARTMENT — A Tip of our Topper to those dozen or so Jefferson High School students, under the able direction of instructor Dave Peebles, who spent last Saturday working up a genuine sweat to earn money so they could attend a model United Nations seminar over in Berkley next month.

The kids set up a car wash behind Frank Monte's service station on Southgate and didn't stop wiping until late afternoon. And you thought all kids sat around with their hands out waiting for that allowance!

S.S.F. Firm Aids Viet Plane Tire Repairs

Usable life of the tires on U.S. Air Force planes in Southeast Asia is expected to be prolonged as much as 10 times by use of a new fiberglas reinforced tread developed by Thompson Aircraft Tire Corporation in South San Francisco.

The new tread, developed by Thompson under an air force research contract, is now being evaluated in daily operation in Vietnam, where adverse runway conditions have at times damaged tires beyond repair in as few as three landings.

Experience thus far has shown the new tread suffers only a fraction of the normal cut and break damage expected under advanced base operating conditions.

Toughness of the new tread, according to Thompson, results from a new process of mixing tiny strands of fiberglas with natural rubber. The combination is substantially tougher than rubber but retains the resiliency to withstand high impact and pressure.

The tread was developed to solve the problem of severe cutting, rather than ordinary wear. Advanced base runways often are not paved and frequently are littered with sharp rocks, bits of debris and other objects which cut through the tread layers and into the tire's inner casing.

Tires suffering only normal tread wear are retreaded. As long as the casing is sound retreading is repeated over and over. When the casing is broken, however, retreading is not feasible and the tire must be scrapped. The air force routinely retreads its aircraft tires as a major cost-saving procedure.

Air force experience in Vietnam has shown that a typical big plane, such as the 155,000-pound C-130 transport, can expect as few as three landings before its tires must be either repaired or scrapped. High incidence of severe cuts has often required scrapping tires that were virtually brand new.

Tests and evaluation both here and in Vietnam indicate the new fiberglas-reinforced tread will increase the number of landings to be expected as much as 10 times. Greater protection to the casing afforded by the tougher tread is expected to extend the number of times the tire can be retreaded.

Thompson's research and development center worked on the development project nearly a year before the successful process was worked out. Fiberglas has been used for some time to reinforce automobile tires, but the technique — application of a rubber-coated belt of fibgerglas between tread layers — was not satisfactory for aircraft tires, which must support enormous weights and withstand tremendous impact and pressure of high-speed landings and take-offs.

The company is the largest in the world devoted exclusively to retreading aircraft tires. It maintains a research and development center and production facilities here, and production plants in New York, Florida and Belgium.

House, Tree Fight It Out In San Bruno

By DON GRIERSON

A man down on Park Avenue in San Bruno is having a definite problem with a tree.

George Seaman, 1756 Park, appealed to Mayor Maurice Hamilton and members of the city council for permission to remove a large tree from his lawn Monday, relating how the tree has ruined his sewer connecting lines "and even shaken the foundations for the house."

Seaman brought along several samples of the tree's roots, apparent source of all the difficulty, and laid them upon the rostrum for councilmen to view.

"I am expecting to hear from my plumber any day now," he said, "and he tells me I will receive a bill of $350 to $500 for repair to the sewer lines."

"Also, they were moving a house down the street last summer, and the house brushed against the branches of the tree. This caused the tree to shake, which in turn caused the roots to shake, and the roots caused my house to shake," Seaman said.

Public works crews refused to grant the homeowner permission to remove the tree last week, stating they have authority to remove trees only when they are diseased.

However, Mayor Hamilton and members of the council were sympathetic to Seaman's plea.

EYESORE OF THE WEEK

UTILITY AGENCIES CONTRIBUTE to the "eyesore scene" this week. Certainly not an unusual sight in most County neighborhoods, these utility poles with their scramble of wires, crossbars and transformers, are an unsightly mess. This photo is the best excuse we can offer for insisting on undergrounding of utilities in residential neighborhoods. It is a known fact that without the insistence of various city councils, planning and departments and support of the citizens, these utility poles will almost certainly continue to rise along our streets, cluttering up the skyline. Smart Shopper Knows . . .

The smart shopper knows that when stores clear out holiday merchasdise, broken sizes of name merchandise and other odds and ends during January sales as much as 50 per cent can be saved on items. The thrifty housewife waits for the annual White Sales to restock her linen closet.

However, while worthwhile sales are going on, the fly-by-night holiday firms who make a business out of "going out of business" are busy conducting questionable sales of questionable material.

Very seldom does the firm which makes a practice of "going out of business" quit without first staging a major merchandising and money-making event.

OFTEN these stores conduct bargain sales up to the day of the big announcement of QUITTING BUSINESS FOREVER. In the meantime, elaborate plans have been made and much trick advertising copy written. Blatant ads are published week after week informing the public of the terrific bargains because the store must "close out to the bare walls." "All fixtures must be sold!"

A relatively small proportion of such sale merchandise offered are actually bargains. To keep the sale going, mercnandise is purchased on consignment from stock rooms and warehouses. Unsold portions of this merchandise, as a rule, can be returned for credit to the consignor.

THE FIRM that is legitimately considering going out of business should shop carefully for debt liquidating services. Persons who contemplate doing business with a firm which advertises such service under which the firm agrees to prorate to creditors from a stipulated amount which the debtor agrees to pay periodically should be certain of two things.

(1) How much will the service cost per week, month or specified time? The fee will be over and above the amount the firm will prorate among creditors and sometimes takes the larger percentage of early payments before creditor payment. The over-all fee agreed upon is based on the total amount to be disbursed and is part of a binding contract, usually non-cancellable.

(2) Have the creditors agreed to all arrangements? If the arrangement is not agreed upon in writing, the debtor cannot know what has been agreed upon.

IF YOU GET A CALL by phone or in person from a personable young man claiming to be a helicopter pilot who has just been drafted BEWARE! Such a person with just such a claim is trying to sell office supplies which he claims he must dispose of because of the draft.

He often uses the following sales pitch:

"Your friend John Doe of John Dow Car Agency recommended that I contact you and give you the chance to get in on this bargain." He seems to be going from automobile dealer to automobile dealer in the Bay Area.

Other like schemes as well as this one have resulted in padded orders and poor quality merchandise. The perpetrator of this one claims a Los Angeles address but fails to explain why he must liquidate his business in this area.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

The Post welcomes letters from readers as valid public comment and opinion. They should be newsworthy. The editors reserve the right to cut or otherwise edit letters supporting or attacking political candidates. Carbon copies, and letters addressed to others will not generally be used. When many letters on the same subject are received, the editors will choose the best. While good writing and acceptable grammar are desired, more attention will be given to lively style and provocative thought. Rejection implies no lack of merit and the writer is encouraged to try again. All letters must be signed.

Editor, The Post:

Golly, what happened to all those funds the Democrat majority in Sacramento told Governor Reagan was on hand, when he asked for cutbacks? I recall the 700 million dollar debt left over from Pat Brown's administration. Reagan talked economy, while our legislators continued the Utopia they had created with our tax dollars.

Now the bills are due and payable. It is an election year. It is very convenient for the legislators who represent us not to be held accountable for their actions. And to place the tax increase on the back of the Governor.

The crack in the "Utopian Curtain" is growing wider. The honey pot is at a low level. The ladle comes up pretty dry. Without our taxes some of the honey pots would be wiped out completely. And a lot of political patronage would fade away.

San Bruno.

Hearing on Bruno Drain Program Is February 4

County supervisors recently agreed to spend no more county road funds to cover over an open drainage channel through the Westborough area of South San Francisco, although they did go ahead with another drainage program when they set a public hearing for 2:30 p.m. on February 6 on a San Bruno creek flood control program.

After County Engineer Don S. Wilson reported that the county has already spent around $600,000 on Westborough boulevard and that a complete project to cover over a nearby storm drain as well would bring the cost of the entire project up to somewhere around $2 million, James V. Fitzgerald, chairman of the county board, remarked, "We have already bent over backwards."

"It is a question as to how far we can bend," Supervisor Robert St. Clair added, and Supervisor William M. Werder pointed out according to an opinion from the office of District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson the county cannot legally use road funds on drainage projects.

Wilson was instructed to inform South San Francisco municipal officials that the county cannot expend any more funds on the Westborough project.

The board did, however, pass a resolution of intention to proceed with the San Bruno flood control project.

Leadership Awards Given

Six adult leaders of Boy Scout Troop 275 were given Scouters Leadership Training Awards at the annual recognition dinner of the Northern District San Mateo Boy Scout Council which was held Jan. 17, at El Camino High School in South San Francisco.

Those honored were Chuck Piretti, Don Barnhart, George Doernhoefer, Bob Shannon, Dick Olson, and Fred Milam. Each recipient had completed eight training sessions plus participating in one overnight campout.

Boys from Troop 275 were in charge of the opening and closing ceremonies at the gathering. In addition, the troop received two awards — one certifying that the troop had participated in a minimum of ten days and nights on overnights; the other, recognizing that over 40 per cent of the troop had achieved the rank of First Class Camper or better. Sports Car Burns Up In Home Blaze

A gasoline-fed fire completly consumed a late model sports car, gutted a garage and caused heavy smoke damage to a Daly City home yesterday afternoon.

Total damges in the stubborn blaze was estimated by officials at more than $16,500.

The fire broke out in the garage of William Quintana at 100 Huntington Avenue shortly after 2 p.m. when spilled gasoline was apparently touched off by the pilot light in a nearby water heater.

Investigators said Quintana was working on the fuel pump of his sports car and had left the line disconnected as he went into another part of the home.

As he was returning to the garage he felt an explosion and saw smoke and flames filling the interior of the garage.

An unidentified neighbor summoned fire units to the scene as Quintana fled the blazing structure.

Although the fire was quickly "knocked down" it continued to reignite due to leaking gasoline from the vehicle's fuel tanks, a fire department spokesman said.

No one was injured in the fire.

Art Exhibit Is Likened To Massage

Stimulation is something a Swedish massage and Capuchino High School's Student Art Show have in common, the latter's proponents feel. Small wonder then that students named the school's second annual show "The Swedish Massage," they explain.

This will be a repeat of the presentation of student art "which proved to be an exciting event" when held the first time in the school's history last year. The exhibition will be held in the rotunda of the art wing on January 24 and 25 from 8 a.m., to 3 p.m., and on the evening of January 25 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Cap has long been known for an outstandig fine arts department. In just the past year the department has grown 50 per cent, and now includes instructors Mrs. Anne Barker, Keith Bedford, Stanley Grosse, Dick Jamison, student teacher from San Francisco State, and Frank Valentine, chairman of the department. This staff has added five new classes in crafts, three full-year ceramic, and two full-year jewelry classes.

Grosse, art instructor and director of the second annual student show, is highly enthusiastic about the greater variety of art forms that will be on exhibit this year including pottery and jewelry. The public is invited

Scouts Will Salute Adults

The Oceana High School Cafetorium will be the scene of the Portola District (Boys Scouts of America) annual Recognition Dinner for adults in Scouting on Friday evening, January 26. The event, scheduled to commence at 6:30, is expected to attract approximately 150 community members according to Thomas Collins, District Chairman.

A catered dinner, featuring buffet service of several entries, four salads, and home-made pies, will be the lead-off activity for the evening and will be followed by an "adult Court of Honor", at which time Scout leadership and participation by adults will be acknowledged and commended.

Ed Houg, Pacifica barber and long-time supporter of Scout activities, will serve as Master of Ceremonies at the event which will bring together city and school officials, Scout executives, and others active in the scouting movement in the Portola District, including institutional representatives and sponsoring agencies.

The Portola District, which extends from Fairmont to Half Moon Bay and from LaHonda to Pescadero, this year boasts of the involvement of 1494 boys in the Scouting program.

Tickets for the vent Friday evening are available from Bernie Lake at the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce office. According to Lake, Public Relations Chairman for the affair, tickets may also be purchased at the door.

S.S.F. C of C Set to Elect

Municipal Judge F. Jose deLarios will be speaker at the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce dinner today.

Election of six directors of the chamber will be held also. Incumbent directors seeking reelection are Anthony Disanto, Art Santer, Gordon Murphy, Sam Maiman, Fred Royce and Walt McRae.

President William Borba said the selection committee will name a new secretary-manager, to be announced at the meeting.

CHEF HENRY DOELGER—Most people know Henry Doelger for his building accomplishments in the Bay Area. Few know that the developer is also a culinary expert of considerable standing, the envy of many local chefs. Chef Doelger's specialty is an Italian dish called "chioppino" which he served to the Daly City Baccala Club recently. Restaurant owner Frank (Toto) Spadarella commented, "The dish was excellent—I only wish I could afford to hire Chef Doelger." Doelger (center) posed with his "helpers for the day" chef Peppino Blandino (left) and Giovann Lai (right).

Coast City Will Bury Its Power

Half Moon Bay swelled the number of cities by one last night that have decided that undergrounding of utilities is the wave of the future in urban planning.

The city council, in joint study session with the planning commission, endorsed a letter of recommendations from the planners, which after considerable study, formulated them.

These include: Master plan and city policy recognition of underground utilities as the basic standard for new development; all utilities, including power, communications and cable television, be made mandatory for all new single and multifamily, commercial and industrial properties; if any major program of replacing the present overhead system is undertaken, the Main Street business district should have first priority.

Thus okayed in principle, the undergrounding study by the planners will continue with hearings with utilities, contractors, etc. to get as much information as possible for a proposed ordinance.

It was decided also that as a matter of policy, all new homes or buildings on a street with overhead utilities should be required to have provision for undergrounding.

The council in another matter of sightliness decided on myroporam trees, some 88 of them, to be planted around the city sewage treatment plant to screen it from the adjacent Kehoe Estates beach view.

Myroporum will grow eight to ten feet the first year and might reach a total height of 30 feet. Pines weren't acceptable, the council decided. The planting was in answer to a request from Angelo J. Siracusa of Mill Valley, owner of some nearby apartment acreage in Kehoe Estates.

Youth Week

Daly City Mayor Bernard Lycett has proclaimed January 29 as "Youth in Government Day" and invited all interested citizens to attend the Youth Council Meeting at 8 p.m. on that night in the Civic Center council chambers.

S.S.F. Educator Dies Unexpectedly

Louis J. Bagnall, 55, principal at South San Francisco High School for the past 20 years and one of the North County's leading educators, died unexpectedly Sunday night at his home in Millbrae.

Bagnall joined the South San Francisco Unified School District as a business education teacher in 1937, and had served continuously since that time. He was appointed principal at South San Francisco High School, then the city's only secondary school, in 1947.

He held a bachelor of arts and master of arts degree from Fresno State College.

Dist. Supt. Dr. Paul Nielsen said today Bagnall was "the most dedicated educator I have ever known."

"If ever there was a man who died in the service of his country and his fellow men, this man did," Dr. Nielsen said. "He gave 104 per cent of himself to that high school."

Bagnall telephoned Kaiser Hospital early Sunday night and told a nurse he did not feel well and was going to drive himself to the emergency room, authorities said.

When he failed to show up, the nurse dispatched police to his residence at 1404 Magnolia Avenue, Millbrae. When police arrived, he was unconscious, and he died a short time later at the hospital.

Bagnall is survived by a son, Larry, and a daughter, Jeanie Lou Bagnall, Fresno, and his mother, Mrs. Rose Bagnall, also of Fresno.
